THE BOLD, BAD WOMEN.

Woodhull and Claflin in Ludlow Street Jail.

INCIDENTS OF THEIR ARREST, HEARING AND COMMITTAL TO PRISON.

[From the New York Herald of Sunday.]

Yesterday Deputy Marshals Colfax and Bernard strolled quietly down to the office of Messrs. Woodhull & Claflin, on Broad street, and, inquiring for the heads of this somewhat celebrated firm of female brokers, were told that they were out. The brace of officers said they would wait, and seated themselves in the office for that purpose. In a few minutes both Victoria C. Woodhull and Tennie C. Claflin entered, and at the same instant Marshal Colfax informed them that it was his unpleasant duty to take them in custody, as an affidavit charging an offence against the new United States law relating to the posting and sending through the postoffice obscene publications had been issued. Mrs. Woodhull expressed herself at once ready to accompany the officers, and a carriage being in readiness the party entered and were driven rapidly to the office of Commissioner Osborn, in the United States Court building.

The usual number of loungers, lawyers, idlers and deputy marshals were loitering about the building, not dreaming of a sensation, and when the well known forms of Messrs. Woodhull & Claflin emerged from the coach the wildest excitement at once sprung up, and an eager throng followed up the rickety stairs, anxious to view the proceedings. In the carriages were also about five hundred copies of Woodhull and Claflin's Weekly, which had been seized by the officers. Mrs. Woodhull looked grave and severe, never smiling, and listening with apparent painful interest to the proceedings. Tennie C. wore an indifferent air and her eyes sparkled with excitement. She smiled affably as something in the remarks of her counsel or the District Attorney struck her as funny. They were both dressed alike, as is their invariable custom, attired in deep black, with purple bows and the latest style of hats. Of course they were eagerly peered at by all within seeing distance, but noticed no one themselves, or seemed to care for the steady gaze of the spectators and lawyers. In fact they presented the same bold front that has been their distinguishing characteristic.

So great was the excitement consequent upon this arrest that old and able lawyers, who had assembled in the District Court to argue dry questions of law in patent and other abstruse cases before Judge Blatchford, rushed into the Circuit Court, where the Woodhull examination was held, to take a look at one of the most extraordinary scenes that has, within our memory, ever occurred in the federal Courts of this city —that scene being no less than two women, who, from their education and intelligence, ought to be models of virtue and purity, charged with sending filthy, vulgar, indecent and obscene publications through the mails of the United States.

Claflin and Woodhull occupied seats inside the bar, and it is a noticeable fact that not one man spoke to them except their counsel, and only one woman, dressed in black, and apparently of the strong-minded class, offered them the slightest recognition. We saw a lady in black come into the Court with one of the officials, and this lady took a peep at the prisoners as if they were something wonderful and most extraordinary to behold, as, indeed, they really are.

THE HEARING.

There was some discussion between the lawyers as to bail, the United States District Attorney asking that it be placed at $10,000. Mr. Reymert, counsel for the women, objected.

Commissioner Osborn—A paper called Woodhull and Claflin's Weekly for November 2 was submitted to me. This paper is considered by the Government a publication of a character, and it is charged that the defendants made use of the Postoffice of the United States, in violation of the law, for the purpose of sending that obscene publication through it. That is the charge upon which they are arrested. I issued a warrant upon the affidavits laid before me. The question is whether the paper is a vulgar and obscene publication. In determining the question of bail the Commissioner can consider these defendants in no other light than those defendants who were arrested four or five weeks ago for sending obscene books through the mail. The Government then demanded $10,000 bail. I then expressed my opinion that this was not only a violation of the law, but

VULGAR, INDECENT AND OBSCENE

AN OUTRAGE UPON PUBLIC DECENCY.

Without expressing any opinion in this case, I must consider what amount of bail should be deposited with the Government to secure the attendance of the defendants before the Court—bail that will not be oppressive to them and will be just to the Government. Having heard the District Attorney's application as to how much bail he requires, I fix the bail in each case at $8,000, with two sureties for each. The defendants are committed to the custody of the Marshal, to be by him imprisoned in default of bail, and the examination is set down for Monday at one o'clock.

The spectators now began to withdraw slowly from the Court. The Claflin and the Woodhull remained. After the lapse of about a quarter of an hour they signed bail bonds before Commissioner Osborn, in anticipation that some person would go surety for them; but no one turned up in that capacity, and probably Vic. and Tennie C. thought it sound discretion on their part not to give any bail, as it is now fully believed that if they did they would be again immediately re-arrested on half a dozen other warrants issued from the State Courts. They are now in Ludlow Street Jail, and will remain there until to-morrow (Monday) morning, when the examination will be proceeded with.

AT LUDLOW STREET JAIL.

Upon arriving at Ludlow Street Jail the prisoners tripped lightly out of the carriage and were received by Mr. Edward Regan, the jailer acting for Warden Tracy. They appeared somewhat flushed, but otherwise appeared cool and collected, and their voices were steady and no womanly exhibition of tears was visible. After the heavy iron door had closed upon them and they found themselves within the jail walls, they entered the office of the Warden, in which is placed a partition formed of black walnut and pierced with a couple of doors and a series of glass windows. Around the room hang pictures of prominent politicians, while over the fireplace, where a cheery fire was burning, stands the city arms in alto relief. After scanning the covers of the books in the library the prisoners were offered a seat in the Warden's office, and while sitting pensively gazing at the insignia of his office, the safe, the handcuffs, the copies of writs, the slate on which the arrests were written, they were awakened from their reverie by being told that their counsel wished to see them. The portly figure of Mr. Howe was standing in the doorway, and a few seconds later they were engaged in earnest converse with their legal adviser, which lasted for upwards of a half hour; but it was noticed that when he withdrew their faces were radiant with smiles. Shortly afterward a letter was received, of which the following is a copy:

ST. NICHOLIS HOTEL.

I will go your bail. I am satisfied the cowardly Christian community will destroy you, if possible, to cover up the rotten state of society.

GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN.

To which the following answer was made:

I might have expected that a man not afraid of nations and thrones would snap his finger in the face of a cowardly society, and your kind offer shows your courage and your manhood; but conscious of right I prefer to be independent and remain where I am for the present. Having come to our aid the first, we shall not be the last to forget it.

VICTORIA C. WOODHULL.
TENN. CLAFLIN.

But the errant dames soon began to

and adjourning to the handsome dining room of the prison, a toothsome mess of broiled chicken and potatoes, with condiments, and tea, was soon disposed of, and the ladies returned to the warden's eyrie, where visitors soon poured in, among the first being Mr. Claflin, their father, and Mrs. Sparr, their sister, and many others too numerous to mention. Two more prisoners were brought in at this time, viz.:—Their nephew, Channing Miles, and a colored boy, Mooney, accused of being accomplices of the prisoners just mentioned.

THEIR PRISON CELL.

The handsome rooms occupied by Comptroller Connolly, when a prisoner in Ludlow Street Jail, are now being used by Warden Tracey's family, and a "citizen" bedroom being the only other sleeping accommodation in the jail, is occupied by an embarrassed merchant, so that merely the ordinary cells remained. Leaving the waiting room, they threaded their way up the circular staircases, which lead to the end of the south-western angle of the prison, and here is situated a large billiard room, being on the first floor. At the end of the billiard table is a large cell, which has been occupied by Ryan, the Cuban fillibuster, and other notorious people. The cell has a back window looking into the alley, and is lighted by gas, and possesses an inner wooden door, with a glass window (being the only one in the jail); is covered with oilcloth, and, in a word, is the best in the place of its kind. The row where the cell is situated

IS CALLED FIFTH AVENUE

The prison routine is, up at 6; clean out cells, to 6:30; breakfast, 7:30; dinner, 12; tea, 5:30. Before eight o'clock last night the prisoners knew several of their imprisoned mates, including Lagrave, the notorious forger. Smoking was put a stop to in honor of the female visitors by the associate prisoners.

Divine service takes place to-day around the billiard table, which is but a dozen feet from the sisters' cell, at a quarter to two, by the Rev. Mr. McGuire, of the Bible Society.

The sisters retired for the night at ten o'clock and were locked up in their cell, fully convinced that they were martyrs for the good of society. They state that a million of their papers are being circulated over the Union.

News dealers are forbidden to sell any copies of the paper containing the slander on the printing of which the arrest is based, but at certain news-stands copies are obtainable, this evening, at one dollar each.

THE NASBY LETTERS.

Mr. Nasby writes a Letter of Introduction to Deacon Pogram.

RULES FOR THE TREATMENT OF LIBERAL REPUBLICANS.

[From the Toledo Blade.]

Yesterday I forraded the following letter to Deekin Pogram, at the Corners, ez my instruckshens just before the final battle uv next Toosday:

DEER DEEKIN:—Next Toosday, Nov. 5th, is a momentus day for us. That day decides whether the tyrant Grant shel continyoo to oppress the people four years longer, or whether the guileless and good Greeley shel vault into the place he now okkepies. That day decides whether the Corners shel continyoo to clank her chains, or whether it shel emerge into the perfect liberty it enjoyed before the war. That day decides whether I am to hev that postoffice at the Corners, or whether the nigger Lubbock, whose hands wuz imbrood in Southern blood, is to continyoo thereln.

We must elect the great and good Greeley and the Corners must do its share toward it. Why should we not elect him? Never, in the history uv politics, hez there bin a more comprehensive party, than that wich is supportin Horris. Our assortment uv principles is various, and never wuz there a more various candidate nominated. Everybody kin vote for him. The old-time Republikin kin vote for him for what he hez bin—the old-time Democrat kin vote for him fer wat he is now and wat he is goin to be.

Does the Republikin look askant at him? I confidently refer to the files of the Triboon—back of this year. Does the Demokrat come to his support unwillingly? I confidently refer him to his associate of to-day. Is a Proteckshenist to be considered? Read Horris' works uv the last twenty years on Proteckshen. Is it a Free-Trader who doubts? Don't Horris say he'd leave the entire question to the people? What kin be fairer than that?

So much for our candidate. Ez for our platform it is ekally comprehensive. Any man kin pick out ov it watever he chooses. We hevn't never bin narrer in the matter uv platform—sence we hev bin in a minority. Minorities hevin nothin to lose kin afford to be liberal in platforms. Our platform this year is ez stretchy ez our candidate. It is adapted to all sections, to all interests, and is warranted to keep in all climates. We hev non interference in the States for the benefit ov the hawty Southerner who hankers to kill a nigger unmolested by military—and we hev acquiescence in the Amendments for the Northern Republikin. Both sides kin slake their thirst at this fountain.

Wat we want, and must hev, is success. We must hev it. I want it—you want it. Bascom wants it. The noble army uv martyrs who went out uv offis with Bookannon wants it. Them that held posishens a few short months under A. Johnson, wants it. Ef I am reinstated in a posish, you will probably git the 87 dollars and sixty-three cents wich I borrowed uv you five years ago. Bascom will git wat I owe him for drinks, and I shell hev the means to cash hereafter. Tell this to Bascom—it will inspire him to renooed exertion in the great cause uv Reform.

We hev a wily foe to contend with, and we must remember that eternal vigilance is the price uv offis. The following plain rools will serve ez a guide for yoo from now till the closin uv the polls.

TREATMENT UV LIBERAL REPUBLIKINS.

There are jest now two classes of Liberal Republikins wich I shel class ez No. 1 and No. 2. Class No. 1 comprises them wich hev bin candidates for Fedral offises from the year 1860, and hevnt succeeded very much in gettin uv em, and them who hev bin, since the organizashen uv the Republikin party, afore evry convenshen for county offises, only to be reglerly beaten. This class is noomerous. Class No. 2 is made up uv a few eminently respectable old gentlemen who hev took the Triboon and who actoolly believe that Horris Greeley is a honest man, and who hev maggots in their heads about civil cerviss reforms and sich. Keep all sich men as yoorself, and for that matter, all regler Democrats, away from sich. Association with us may shock em. Yoose em tenderly and handle em corefully. Keep em to preside at our meetins and to shove forrered on occashens when we need respectability.

Class No. 1, yoo need hev no care about. Yoo may consult with em ez freeley ez yoo choose. Even the smell uv your breath won't shock em. They hev a purpose wich a Convenshun uv Democrats in a close room with a hot stove in it would'nt turn em from. Their necessities rise above the sense uv smell. They belong to us by nacher; circumstances drove em away from us, but they naturally gravitated back. Don't talk Civil Servis or reform to em. They know better. Don't put em forrerd on public occasions; in fact the more yoo put em in the back ground the better.

When yoo are with Class No. 2 yoo must insist that Horris hez not changed, but that we hev seen the folly uv our way—that we accept everything. With Class No. 1 no talk is necessary. They hev their eye sot on Post offis, and when a man gits that mania, talk about principle is useless.

The Dimocrisy proper need not care at all, save to see that they are all out. In Noo York we hev made all the necessary arrangements. We hev closed the rat-pits, and hev arranged that the 'sloons shel be run viggerously. We hev raised money to pay for likker, that it may not be doled out sparingly. A great many votes are made by election whisky. A man may hev a spasm uv virchoo jist ez he iz going to the polls, and ef let alone may vote agin us, who, ef three square drinks are put into him at the right time, will be reckles enuff to do anything. At the Corners, you know, Bascom's likker hez brot two niggers to the pint uv votin with us. But then Bascom's likker is probably the meanest in the United States.

Put him off killin any more niggers till after eleckshen. I don't suppose we kin get enny uv their votes in Kentucky, but the reports uv such things hurts us in the North. Abstain for the few remainin days.

In short, do yoor best. Rest assured that Noo York, Noo Jersey, and Connecticut will vote for Reform. We hev it arranged that our repeeters shel vote enuff times to carry the State, in the mornin, putting in the rest uv the day in Connecticut and Noo Jersey. See to it that yoo vote strong enuff to not only carry Kentucky, but also help out our friends in Southern Ohio, Illinois, and Injianny. Ef you do this we are safe. With these States, the great and good Horris will be elected, and the era ov Post Of—that is, reform, will commence.

Trooly, PETROLEUM V. NASBY,
[Wich wuz Postmaster and hopes to be agin.]

This letter will doubtless stir em up. Kentucky alluz did her whole dooty, and always will P. V. N.

In the Country After Oxen.

New York agents are invading all the adjacent counties in their own State, New Jersey, and Connecticut, in search of oxen to do their carting. At present the prices range from $8 to $12 per day for a yoke, with driver accompanying. The freight on a pair of oxen from Poughkepsie to New York is $3.

The "dicker" between the farmers and the New York men for the "critters" is sometimes amusing. One man to-day (a New Yorker) went out on the road to hire a yoke he had heard of, when the following occurred:

New Yorker—Say, boss, I want to hire your oxen for three or four weeks to take to New York to do our carting.

Farmer—What d'ye pay?

New Yorker—Six dollars a day with driver.

Farmer's Boy—Shall I go with um, pop?

Farmer—Well, now, that ar'nt enough for them ar' critters, That ar' off ox ken pull a horse down. Say $8 a day and their your'n.

New Yorker—Well, old man, we won't quarrel: git 'em ready. Is this boy to drive 'em?

Farmer—Well, I don't know about that. You know that York is a hard place. I'll have to step in and see the old woman about that.

(All three entered the farmer's kitchen.)

Farmer—Mother, I have hired out Brindle Bob and Jim to this Yorker and he wants the boy to go with 'em and drive 'em.

Farmer's boy—Oh yes, mother, you know I can look after 'em better than poppy; I'm spryer.

Mother—Yes, Johnny, but who'll look after you? (Turning to New Yorker) Do you belong to church?

New Yorker—Oh yes; our firm are all church members; go to Henry Ward Beecher's; we'll look after the boy.

Mother—Tell Mr. Beecher he's allers went to Sunday School and bin a good boy; now do take care of him.

New Yorker—Never fear, aunty; I'll take him to Sunday school and church.

When the boy and New Yorker left the farm, with the oxen, the mother stood in the kitchen door-way, wiping her eyes, and the "old man" was leaning over the barnyard gate.

Before the Political Battle.

CANDIDATES HARD AT WORK.

Underground Railway Suit.

WOODHULL AND CLAFLIN INDICTED.

NEW YORK, November 4, 1872.

THE DAY BEFORE THE BATTLE.

The usual bustle and excitement attending the eve of a political battle was prevalent to-day. The candidates for office were industriously working for personal interests, the politicians giving instructions to their followers, and pamphlets setting forth the claims of the nominees were scattered broadcast throughout the city. James O'Brien has an enthusiastic troupe in every ward, and feels confident of his election to the Mayoralty, and hopes for over twenty thousand majority. Many of his adherents claim that he has been promised a large Republican vote. Large sums of money are reported distributed in his name among the laboring men in the up town wards. The enthusiasm for O'Brien on the east side has occasioned a report that a preconcerted attack will be made upon the Havemeyer boxes to-morrow. A rumor was spread to-day that Havemeyer had withdrawn, and was the theme of universal remark, but proved entirely unfounded.

Tammany Hall was crowded with politicians, who exhibited much enthusiasm for Lawrence. Its challengers have been instructed to keep a close watch upon the ranks of O'Brien, as it is reported that fraud will be attempted in his interest on a large scale. In betting, O'Brien is the favorite, with Havemeyer close on his heels and Lawrence far behind.

Marshal Sharpe has instructed his chief deputies to inquire camly into all cases of arrests, and if trivial, to allow the prisoner to depart on personal application; if they think the prisoner should be held, he is to be sent, with witnesses, to the nearest United States Commissioner.

The Presidential question seems to excite little interest, but the struggle for Governor promises to be bitter, as certain followers of Apollo Hall, who have renounced Tammany, are unwilling to vote for Dix. Rumor says Kernan tickets will be run out of all Apollo Hall boxes to-morrow. Betting, however, is nearly two to one on Dix.

WOODHULL AND CLAFLIN INDICTED.

The United States Grand Jury indicted the Mesdames Woodhull and Claflin to-day, and thus precluded a hearing before the United States Commissioner. Stephen Pearl Andrews has also been arrested on a charge of being complicated with the dames.

Bench warrants were served upon the female defendants, and bail fixed in the sum of $8,000 each, in default of which both were remanded to the Ludlow street jail to await trial.

UNDERGROUND RAILWAY SUIT

Francis P. Byrne brought suit against the New York Central Underground Railway Company, to compel the performance of a contract with him. Byrne alleges that the company made an agreement with him to build the road for fourteen millions bonds, and that he should buy the right of way for eight and a half millions stock. The defendants demand that there was no cause for action, and Judge Barrett gave judgment in their favor, holding, among other reasons, that a breach of contract is not sufficiently alleged to warrant a decree for damages.

THE EQUINE EPIZOOTIC.

NEW YORK AND VICINITY.

NEW YORK, November 4.—The horse disease is rapidly abating in this city, and the streets seem to have their usual number of horses. A large number, however, still show running noses and other slight symptoms of the distemper. There was not so great a mortality yesterday as on Saturday, but many deaths.

The disease began to spread yesterday in Brooklyn, with new and alarming symtoms, attended by swelling of the legs and discharge of blood from the nose and ulcerated throat. Twenty deaths were reported.

Evening.—Several stage companies have brought suit to restrain Bergh, of the Cruelty to Animals Society, from stopping their horses and arresting their owners. Argument adjourned to Wednesday.

There was an increased number of horses on the streets to-day; also an increase in the number of cars running on the different railroad routes. The disease is evidently abating, but it will be some time yet, from the condition of the horses, before the disease disappears from the city and neighborhood.

A physician of Jersey City has four patients under his charge who have been taken down within the past few days with complaints similar to the epidemic now prevailing among the horses. The doctor states that about thirty years ago an epidemic broke out somewhat similar to the present one, and was followed by a like epidemic among the human species.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, November 4.—No street cars are running to-day; very few hacks are in service. Nineteen-twentieths of the horses in the District are suffering in a mild form. Several deaths are reported. The malady has also reached the mules, and vehicles are driven slowly and the animals otherwise treated with care.

WASHINGTON, November 4.—The President's horses are sick. Man power has been substituted for horse power in many cases. The mails are thus carried. The departments suffer from the sickness of their horses.

NORFOLK.

NORFOLK, Va., November 4.—The horse disease has disabled nearly all the laboring horses here and many in the surrounding country. The street cars have stopped running.

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, November 4.—The horse disease prevails here to an alarming extent. The Second, Third, Union, Fifth and Sixth street lines of cars are not running to-day. The cars on the Chestnut and Walnut street line are drawn by men to-night, passengers having to pay fifteen cents. The business interest is suffering considerably. Freight is accumulating on the wharves, and cannot be delivered. Draymen are charging from fifteen to twenty dollars a team per day. Numbers of fatal cases among the horses are occurring.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, November 4.—A cold, drizzling rain storm from the east set in this morning, and continued steadily ever since, with no prospects of abating. A number of deaths among the horses affected by the prevailing distemper were reported to-day.

The disease has appeared in Elgin, and will probably extend throughout the country. A large number of ox teams appeared on the streets to-day, and many more are on the way here from the interior. The wholesale houses and express companies delivered large quantities of gooods to-day through the aid of these substitutes for horses.

CLEVELAND.

CLEVELAND, October 4.—There is no abatement of the horse disease in this city, though many horses that were first afflicted are at work. A number of deaths were reported to-day. The street cars are not yet running. It is estimated that there are four thousand sick horses in the city.

ROCHESTER.

ROCHESTER, November 4.—The horse epizootic has so far abated that one would not suspect its being here at all. Many horses have recovered, and most of them are convalescent. The canal horses are worse than the others, and a few boats are detained.

CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, November 4.—The horse disease has broken out here. A majority of the work horses and mules in the city are more or less affected.

GOLDSBORO.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., November 4.—The horse disease has made its appearance in this place.

KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, N. Y., November 4.—Four deaths from the horse disease were reported to-day. The infection is spreading more widely.

ALBANY.

ALBANY, November 4.—There is as yet no abatement of the horse disease here.

The Cincinnati Gazette of Monday says:

After rising to 15 feet 2 inches, the river commenced falling yesterday.... Nearly all the coal fleet will have arrived to-day. So far but two barges of coal have been reported lost. The present may be noted as the most successful coal run ever made.... The Henry Probasco will to-morrow enter the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh trade as a regular weekly packet, with Cap. C. A. Dravo in command and Mr. Alex. Young in the office.... The Belfast, Capt. Sedam, bound from St. Louis to New Orleans with a full cargo, struck a snag and sunk at Island 26, 125 miles above Memphis, Friday. She sunk in 5½ feet of water, and has had a break in her hull, but lies straight, and it is thought can be raised. No lives were lost. The Belfast is insured for $25,000, all in this city, except possibly a small amount placed in Wheeling companies. .... The sunken flatboat at Rising Sun is represented to be in a very critical condition. About 200 bales of hay and straw were dumped from it into the river and floated away.... CUMBERLAND, November 4.—A man giving his name as Henry Howland deposited in the Second National Bank of this city, on Saturday, a check for five thousand dollars on the Fulton National Bank of New York, purporting to be signed by C. Howland did not call again, and has not been arrested.

LOUISIANA.

The State Election.

REPUBLICAN MAJORITY 30,000.

NEW ORLEANS, November 8.—The election throughout the State passed off quietly. No official returns are received. The Republicans claim that they are thirty thousand ahead on registration, and claim that they have carried the State by 30,000.

The Democratic State Central Committee claim the State by twenty thousand and the city by 10,000 to 12,000. Governor Warmoth thinks the State has gone for Greeley and Brown by 15,000 majority, and claims three, and probably four, Congressmen. It will be several days before enough is positively known to show the result.

THAT "RITUALISTIC" WEDDING.

Just What Was Contemplated—A Solemn Religious Ceremony—What Has Been in Trinity—A Fashionable Wedding—A Pointed Contrast.

The excitement in reference to that hymeneal unpleasantness in Trinity Church, last week, has not cooled down, and it promises to afford a fine theme for many a day. Pertinent to some of the points which have not yet been touched upon, is the following communication which has been handed to us by one who seems to thoroughly appreciate at least some features of the affair, not heretofore noticed:

THE SERVICE PROPOSED.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

As much has been written about that "Ritualistic marriage ceremony," which was to have taken place at Trinity Church a few days ago, it is but just to the parties concerned that the public should know just what that service was to have been, which so terrified the Rev. Rector of the church as to deprive the large number of friends of the bride from witnessing a solemn ceremonial.

The musical portion was to have been sung by the choir of "All Saints' Church," consisting of six boys and four men," who were to have worn the usual plain white surplices. They were to sing two hymns from the Hymnal of the church. The responses to the commandments—"Lord have mercy upon us and incline our hearts to keep this law," the Gloria in Excelsis and Amens. While the bride and groom were kneeling at the rail to receive the Lord's Supper, one of the boy choristers was to have sung a solo, "O Lamb of God who taketh away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us. O Lamb of God who taketh away the sins of the world, grant us Thy peace." The officiating minister was to have worn the usual surplice and to perform the ceremony at the steps of the chancel, after which the newly married were to advance to the altar rail to receive the elements of bread and wine. This was the whole service, the Rev. bridegroom desiring no ostentatious display. The bride was dressed in a plain traveling habit. It was desired to have a strictly religious and devotional ceremony.

A SERVICE THAT HAS BEEN.

For a better understanding it is in place to describe a fashionable wedding at Trinity church, which is considered orthodox by the "powers that be." Half an hour before the time appointed for the bridal party to arrive the organists begins a chromatic flourish on the organ, with staccato pedal accompanament, soon leading into selections from the latest operas, and introducing occasionally such songs as are familiar, viz: "'Tis the Last Rose of Summer," "Beautiful Star," "Dearest Mother, must I Leave Thee," etc.

In the mean time ushers appear in the aisles in the usual and uniform ball-room costumes of dress coats, white vests and gloves, and boquets, while the audience (they are not called congregation) chats and talk, and laugh—quite ignoring the fact that they are in "God's Holy Temple," where "all are to keep silence before Him."

When the bridal party arrives, every effort is made to have an imposing ceremonial—the bride and maids are in elegant attire—postures are studied and the officiating minister (with questionable taste) appears with white gloves, in addition to his surplice to perform the ceremony in his most impressive manner.

The sacred rite becomes show. At its conclusion friends rush from the pews for a general kissing at the steps of the chancel unless the bride has good sense enough to decline it—and the gay assemblage withdraw to the sound of the wedding march.

Which of these is most acceptable to the Almighty in a temple set apart from all profane and ungodly uses. Judge ye.

....The South Side members were sworn in yesterday and took their seats. The first important measure in which they were called upon to take part was the motion to reconsider the equalization ordinance, when they voted ten in favor, to seven against reconsideration. Much interest was manifested as to how the new members would vote on this question, and when the result was announced there was considerable cheering in the lobby.

....At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Pennsylvania Insurance Company of Pittsburgh, held at the company's office, 167½ Wood street, November 4th, 1872, the following gentlemen were elected as Directors for the ensuing year: C. Frazier, E. H. Alexander, Matthias Voegtley.

....Several communications come to us complaining of gross inattention on the part of drivers of the Pleasant Valley Street Cars. A lady came last evening to the east end of Stockton avenue in good time for an approaching car and standing close to its track held up her umbrella for a signal to stop. The car rushed by leaving her standing in the mud to await the next car—the car had but three passengers. The night before a gentleman and lady were within twenty feet of a car crossing, Sandusky street, the gentleman called loudly to the driver who must have heard him, but he did not even look up or down the street for waiting passengers or heed the call. Conduct like this is excessively provoking and we are sure is not approved by the President or Superintendent of the line, but they should know of and remedy such gross delinquencies of their drivers.

PERSONAL.

Alderman D. L. Smith, of Allegheny, has returned home from Harrisburg.

Alderman Strain has been quite sick for three or four days, though is now better.

Isaac Reed, Esq., has been appointed a member of the Allegheny Board of Poor Directors from the Eighth ward, vice George Parkins, resigned.

Both Presidents of our Councils showed the South Side new members the way to do business with ability and rapidity at the session yesterday.

It is said that Capt. B. Gallisaith is the author of the somewhat unharmonious but very popular song, now so much in vogue, entitled, "Saw my leg off."

Alderman Butler, of the Seventh ward, will be a candidate for re-election in December. The probality is that he will have no opposition for the Republican nomination and very little at the election.

At their residence on Fifth avenue, our well known and greatly esteemed fellow-citizen, H. Silverman, Esq., and his amiable lady celebrated their silver wedding on Sunday afternoon, the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. They were surrounded by hosts of friends, all of whom heartily congratulated the happy couple on having thus far journeyed together down the stream of life, and in wishing for them a celebration of their golden wedding.

Gen. George W. Cass and party have returned from their extended reconnoissance of the route and terminus of the Northern Pacific Railroad. The entire party enjoyed excellent health, and return with confirmed confidence of the practicability and utility of the great work of a Northern Railway from Lake Superior to Portland and Puget Sound in Washington Territory. The topography presents, no serious obstacle anywhere, and the isothermals are more favorable than those of the Union Pacific route, although to the northward of it. We understand that Gen. Cass is more sanguine than ever of an early accomplishment of the great enterprise that has been intrusted to his chief management.

BANGED HIMSELF.

Another Victim of the Suicidal Mania.

There seems to be something very remarkable in way that criminalities develop themselves when once started. But a day or two ago we recorded a most deliberate case of self destruction, and yesterday two additional cases were brought to light. One of the cases mentioned was discovered yesterday morning in Birmingham. The victim, Ferdinand Kaufield, was found hanging by a clothes line in the rear of his residence on Tenth street. Kaufield was a glass blower by occupation, and for some time had been very impemperate and while under influence of drink had greatly abused his family, which consisted of a wife and three grown-up children.

Some time since his wife threatened to or had instituted proceedings for a divorce, but deceased promised to mend his ways and was allowed to remain in the house. Last week he preferred a charge of larceny against a woman of doubtful reputation, alleging that she robbed him of six dollars. He had been absent from home since that time and only returned on Sunday night. He was duly sober at the time, and expressed a desire to be allowed to sleep on a lounge in the dining room. His wife prepared quilts to make him comfortable, and he retired shortly after eight o'clock, the other members of the family sleeping up stairs. About midnight Mrs. Kaufield awakened from her sleep and found him standing over her, intently gazing into her face. Upon being questioned, he left the room, remarking that he "thought she had been calling him." This was the last seen of him alive.

Yesterday morning his body was discovered by his wife hanging in a wash-house, at the farther end of the lot. His feet were drawn up and his knees almost touched the floor. His body was cut down and the coroner notified. At the inquest the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

New Motive Power.

We hope the invention of a simple and safe engine to take the place of horses and mules on street railways, spoken of in the article below, or some other will come into general use. Many thousands of animals now employed to move the street cars in our cities are overworked, overloaded and abused in a most inhuman manner. The evil is a serious one, and cries for a remedy. We think the popular mind in view of the wide prevalence of disease among horses, is prepared to approve and adopt mechanical as a substitute for animal power for street cars, and thus cure a great evil.—EDS.

Dr. Emilie Lanno, of New Orleans, has probably solved one of the problems of the day—the discovery of a perfectly safe motive power for street railway cars other than horses or mules. Dr. Lanno has invented a steam engine for the purpose, which has been tested on one of the roads in the Crescent City, and found to work most successfully, saving thirty-three per cent. of the cost of running cars by mule power. No fire is used. The new invention is described as follows: The driving engine is of ordinary character. It has a reservoir large enough to contain three hundred gallons of water with steam room above it. The boiler is of steel, and is well covered with non-conducting material to prevent the radiation of the heat. The motive power of this engine is obtained by means of the compression of steam in water, the steam being conducted from a stationary boiler at the end of the truck, which dispenses with the firing up process while under way. The steam with which the engine is charged is sufficient (according to the capacity of the boiler) to perform a trip of from ten to fifteen miles. At the time of changing the temperature in the boiler it is about 380 degrees Fahrenheit, the pressure of steam being about one hundred and seventy pounds to the square inch. There is not the least danger of explosion in using this apparatus, as the pressure in the reservoir can never rise above the point reached at the time of charging, and it is necessarily diminishing as the power is expanded. So simple is its construction that there is less skill required in handling this locomotive than a horse or mule.

THE EQUINAL EMBARRASSMENT.

Difference of Opinion in regard to the Disease—Spreading throughout the City.

The horse disease in Pittsburgh has assumed a very unsatisfactory phase. For a long time we congratulated ourselves that the condition of the atmosphere about the city would prove a preventative, but a few days later we were assured that we would be favored with the genuine article. Now the question seems to be among livery stable men and those interested in horse flesh, is the disease prevailing generally in the city or not. A GAZETTE reporter visited the principal stables of the city last evening and found that a great difference of opinion prevails in regard to the disease. It is acknowleged at nearly every stable that in a few cases the the animals are coughing some, but some of the proprietors contend that it is nothing more than a cold. Mr. John Mitchell, whose stable is on Smithfield street, said that he had twelve or fourteen animals coughing, and he was of the opinion that the same disease existed in nearly every other stable in the city. The animals at Mr. Mitchell's stable are under the treatment of Dr. Giles.

There seems to be but little change in the condition of the animals in the stables of the Citizens' Passenger Railway Company from that reported yesterday. A few additional cases appeared, though the cars are running about as usual. The disease has appeared in a mild form in the stables of Mr. Ardary, on Liberty street, and also in his private stables on Penn avenue. It has also appeared in Allegheny, and last evening the disease broke out in the livery stable of Wm. Harper on Sandusky street. The following number of cases also existed in other localities in Allegheny, at eight o'clock last evening. In the stable of Fairman & Taggart, twenty-two; in Wm. Peeble's private stable, on Webster street, one; in the Manchester car stables twenty horses were attacked, five of which were very seriously sick; at Young & Booth's, brewers, on Martin street, two, and at the Eagle cotton mills, three. Thus far we have heard of no fatal cases, except the one reported yesterday, and the general opinion seems to be that the disease will continue but a short time.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

BURGESS DRESSELL had fourteen boys before him charged with engaging in stoning bottles. They each paid a small fine and were discharged.

MAYOR CALLOW had three common cases at the hearing yesterday morning. Mary McGill, charged by her husband with disorderly conduct, was sent to jail for twenty days in default of a fine of twenty dollars.

AMOS FIELDING made information before 'Squire Krehan against James Owens, charging him with the larceny of a trunk, one five-dollar bill, $2.50 in gold and silver change, and one gold breastpin. Owen was committed for a hearing.

JOHN CAIN, Kate Cain and Hugh Curnan were before Deputy Mayor Phillips, of East Liberty, yesterday on charge of disorderly conduct. Curnan was fined three dollars, and the others twenty-five dollars and costs each, and in default of payment, were sent to the Work House for thirty days each.

BEFORE Deputy Mayor Nichols, of Lawrenceville, W. H. Porter made an information charging Mrs. K. McKee with fraud. He alleges that Mrs. McKee bought some furniture of him upon the representation that she owned a piano worth nine hundred dollars, which, he alleges, is false He also alleges that she is about leaving the city without paying the bill. A warrant was issued, and the matter settled to the satisfaction of those concerned. The bill amounted to ninety-three dollars and twenty-five cents.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The Coleman Sisters were greeted by a fine house last evening, and their debut was in every way a success. The drama of "Stolen by Gypsies." is one of sufficient interest to amuse an audience that seeks an hour of pleasant recreation. The little ladies are full of vivacity and render their several parts in a sparkling manner, eliciting rounds of applause. The great feature of the evening was the musical entertainment offered by them, and the manner in which they perform upon the cornet a piston will in time stamp them as rivals to a Levy or Schreiber. All three of the young ladies executed difficult selections upon the banjo, and won two and three hearty en cores. They dance and sing well, and by their comicalities serve to interest an audience. An evening is well spent in visiting the clever little Coleman Sisters.

THE AMERICAN THEATRE.—The new bill offered at this place of amusement this week includes a host of attractive novelties, and the house last evening was crowded to witness them. The performances of Americus, the four old violinist are wonderful in the extreme. None should fail to see him.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES THEATRE.—This week the Zanfretta Pantomime Troupe, which drew such crowds last week, are this week performing the side splitting pantomime "Humpty Dumpty." Of course the house is filled nightly.

SOME interest is taken in the Greek Church, and the following errors of this sect will be interesting: They hold, 1, The doctrine that the Church and its traditions are of equal authority with the Scriptures. This draws with it other fatal heresies. 2, They thoroughly deny the fundamental doctrine of justification by faith alone. 3, They worship images as much as do Roman Catholics. 4, They practice confession to the priest. 5, They hold the doctrine of "purgatory." 6, They hold the doctrine of transubstantiation. 7, They hold the doctrine of baptismal regeneration. 8, Like the Church of Rome they invent five sacraments to be added to the baptism and the Lord's Supper. WORK AS WELL AS VOTE.

Voting is important, but there is more than this that can be done. Perhaps your neighbor is careless, thinks his vote can be dispensed with, feels careless, imagining that it is merely a question of men, not of principles. See him, impress him with a sense of duty and see that he votes. There is a sick man living near you. He was in the war, fought bravely and was wounded, and hence cannot himself get to the polls. He will go,—longs to go,—if you will take him. His vote is worth as much as yours. Take him to the polls. Go seeking work on election day and you will find it.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE has been in attendance in the Supreme Court at Washington, but finds that he cannot attend to his duties without seriously jeopardizing his health. It is understood that unless his condition improves before winter he will take a trip to California. There is much complaint among the practitioners in the Supreme Court about the physical condition of the Chief Justice and of Associate Justice Nelson, inasmuch as the business of the Court is very much impeded and embarrassed thereby.

THE marriage ceremony between the South Side boroughs and the city of Pittsburgh was finally consummated yesterday. The Reception Committee, previously appointed by Councils, accompanied by a brass band of music, met the new members at the Monongahela bridge, and escorted them to Municipal Hall, where they were appropriately welcomed as the representatives of a portion of the great city of Pittsburgh. The members were subsequently sworn in, took their seats, and participated in the proceedings of Councils.

THE Emperor of China was married to the bride elect, Alute, in Pekin, on the 16th of October. The lady was escorted in state to the palace, but beyond this there was very little demonstration of outward show. The fulfillment of this solemn engagement emancipates the youthful monarch from the Cabinet trammels of the Eastern regency. His marriage makes him of full age according to the State and throne laws of the Empire, and he will, consequently, henceforth rule independently of the Empress Dowager and empress mother.

THE NEW YORK Tribune seems to be dissatisfied with Secretary Boutwell's debt statement for October, and proclaims it "deceiving." In place of $5,228,417,32 reduction, the Tribune claims that $10,081,100 of six per cent. bonds were purchased, and that these should represent the debt decrease. It avers that the reason why this was not the statement, is, that Secretary Boutwell issued enough greenbacks to make up the difference. "He bought up, and canceled," says the Tribune, six per cent. bonds, but at the same time he secretly issued $4,566,664 in greenbacks, and therefore increased the debt to that amount." This is merely equivalent to saying that the statement is correct, but that the Tribune prefers an interest bearing debt, to one that does not bear interest. We think just the other way, where the transfer can be safely made.

THE last session of Congress made an appropriation of fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of making a survey across the State of West Virginia, with the view of extending the James River and Kanawha Canal as to connect the former river with the Ohio. The proposition was to make this canal wide enough to admit of the passage of steamboats of the capacity of three hundred tons. Parties connected with the surveying expedition have arrived in Washington, and state that the survey has been finished, and that a report upon the route will be submitted to the Engineer's Department by the middle of the month. The route proposed, it is stated, will follow the James and Jackson Rivers to the foot of the Allegheny Mountains, at a point a few miles from Covington, where it is proposed to make a tunnel under the mountains nine miles long, and of the full width of the canal. This tunnel will be over two thousand feet above tidewater. Two miles from the western end of this tunnel the canal will enter the Greenbrier River, near the iron bridge of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, over the stream. It is proposed to lock and dam the Greenbrier, New and Kanawha Rivers to a point five miles below Charleston.

TEXAS is making great strides towards the position in the sisterhood of States to which she is legitimately entitled. Emigration is pouring into her limits from Europe and the Southern States in immense numbers, while hopeful capitalists are lavishing money in railroad construction. The Southern Pacific, through northern Texas, from the head of navigation on the Red river, is a fixed fact, and five hundred miles are already under contract. Saint Louis is soon to be brought into direct railroad connection with Galveston. The Missouri and Texas Railroad will be completed to the north bank of the Red river by the middle of this month, and the bridge at the crossing point will be finished soon thereafter. From the river it is but four miles to the new town of Dennison, to which point the cars will be running in a few weeks, thus making a continuous railroad connection with St. Louis, a distance of 630 miles, and leaving only a gap of forty miles on the Texas Central road to make the connection complete between St. Louis and Galveston, a distance of 1,013 miles. The road bed on the forty-mile gap in Texas is already graded, and track laying is going on as fast as iron can be obtained. Three days from Pittsburgh to Galveston is what all this means.

VOTE EARLY.

The most convenient time for voting is in the morning. There is usually less of jostle and confusion, and there will be no break in the business of the day, if the duty is performed then. If you neglect your duty in the morning, you may fail to perform it entirely.

THE DAY'S DEMAND.

To-day, either U. S. Grant or Horace Greeley will be elected President of the United States, to serve for a term of four years, from the fourth of March next. Those who vote will determine who will be President. We do not doubt for a moment that in this State there is an immense majority in favor of the re-election of President Grant. The only question is, will they attend the polls, and vote? The fear is that they will not—the hope that they will. There is little danger in other States than Pennsylvania. They did not go through such an exciting October contest as was carried forward in this State. Hence, their voters will probably be out. But here there was a sudden reaction from high-wrought feeling to perfect quiet. This may be accounted for by two theories. Either there is over-confidence and hence carelessness on the part of Republicans, or there is merely a quiet purpose to do their duty on election, day and hence no demonstrations are thought to be necessary.

We are not careful to divine which of these is the true explanation. We are confident that if the vote is out our majority will be entirely satisfactory. Our only danger is, that it may not be out. To all careless or over-confident Republicans we say, do your duty thoroughly. If you can, devote the day to the work of securing the attendance of friends and neighbors at the polls. If you cannot do this, go yourself, and vote. We said yesterday, and we repeat, that the absence of 50,000 Republicans from the polls will probably defeat our ticket in this State. The absence of five hundred in each county will accomplish this result. Hence how importan the duty of devoting an hour to this important work.

Republicans of Allegheny! You have large business interests, whose prosperity depends on the manner in which the finances of the country are managed. You profess to believe that the country has gained in prosperity under the administration of President Grant. You know that the mere election of Horace Greeley would tend to unsettle values, and injure business. Thus considered in a merely selfish light, you can do more for yourself by devoting an hour to casting your ballot, than by any other use you can possibly make of that hour. Will you not do it? But there are other than merely selfish considerations. We say what we honestly think when we affirm that Mr. Greeley stands as the representative of some of the most offensive ideas of the rebellion. General Grant represents the Union loving, country saving element. Add to this that President Grant has done nobly, and will undoubtedly do better for another term. Mr. Greeley is not merely untried as an administrator, but has been singularly unfortunate in many of his notions and utterances.

Your votes were never of more importance to the country than they are to-day. Your citizenship was never invested with a higher dignity than now. Be faithful in the hour of trial.

THE POPULAR VOTE.

The popular vote for President at this election in the whole country will probably run as high as seven and a half millions, unless there should be an unusually large number of stay-at-homes. The total vote in 1860 in all the States but South Carolina, where electors were chosen by the Legislature, was 4,680,193, but in this no negroes were included save a few in some of the New England States and New York. In 1864, during the war, 4,034,789 votes were cast for President in the twenty-five States taking part in the election. In 1868, the total vote of Grant and Seymour reached 5,716,788, but no election was held in Mississippi, Virginia or Texas, and electors were chosen in Florida by the Legislature. These States cast about 475,000 votes. In 1868 the Fifteenth Amendment had not been proclaimed part of the Constitution of the United States, and negroes only voted in those States where the right was secured to them by State laws; this included the Southern States taking part in the election, except Kentucky, Missouri, Maryland and Delaware, and a few of the Northern States where the number of colored electors was small. In the Northern border States where the negro population is large, they were not entitled to vote until the proclamation of the Fifteenth Amendment in July, 1870. The negro population in round numbers is about five millions, and the voters of that race will number about nine hundred thousand in all the States. The vote in some of the Southern States will also be increased over that of 1868 by the enfranchisement of persons taking part in the rebellion, who were disfranchised by State laws passed during the process of reconstruction. Arkansas is the only State in the union in which persons are now denied the right to vote for participation in the rebellion, but an amendment to the Constitution of that State will be voted on to-day, and undoubtedly carried, removing this disqualification, for which the general government or the Republican party of the nation are in no ways responsible

The number of males in the country, over the age of twenty-one years, in 1870, was stated at over nine millions, and this figure deducting unnaturalized foreigners, represents our total voting popolation; but only in the closely contested or doubtful States will any thing approaching a full vote be brought out at this election. States well settled in their politics, by majorities of thousands, will show a falling off in the number of their votes for President from the last State elections. We expect to see this in a marked degree in such New England States as Maine and Vermont, and in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and other States. We have unfortunately too large a class who do not accept the suffrage as the highest duty of a citizen, to be performed at any reasonable sacrifice of convenience, and this body of citizens is increasing largely every year. If the full Republican vote of every county in the Union could be polled for General Grant it would give an emphasis to his success, and to the ascendency of Republican principles, that would have an influence in public affairs almost equal to the mere fact of his election. His election is every where taken for granted as one of the certainities of the day, and this confident feeling will keep down the popular majority, and even deprive it of much of its moral force.

VOTE RIGHT.

The lines of distinction between the two parties are clearly drawn. The Republican organization, from its very outset, struggled for a united and free country. Those who give the warmest support to Mr. Greeley (the Democrats at the South), were rampant secessionists and pro-slaveryites. Mr. Greeley endorsed the principle of secession, and urges that special favors be conferred on the rebel leaders. President Grant fought secession with great power, and deals fairly but firmly with its leaders. Herein is the difference. For the last time the principle of slavery and secession, and freedom with unity, are face to face in moral combat. Remember, your ballot to-day will wield moral power. It will help to finally decide one of the greatest moral battles of the age. If you are in sympathy with union and freedom, vote for them! Vote right, by voting for the re-election of President Grant!

EVERY VOTE SHOULD BE POLLED.

We find an interesting article in the Utica (N. Y.) Herald in relation to the history of popular elections, in which the duty of every citizen to vote is enforced, and the results shown that have followed in republics of antiquity, negligent refusal of citizens to take part in the electoral contests. We have room for the following extract, which sufficiently points the duty of the day to every voter:

There was a law in Athens, which subjected every citizen to punishment who refused to take sides in the political parties dividing the Republic; and in every election he was required to cast his vote in favor of one candidate or the other. This principle was founded on the deepest wisdom, and for a long period was prolific of the best results to the commonwealth. Ultimately this law was repealed, and with its abolishment there came immediately a marked degeneracy among the Athenian magistrates.

This deterioration caused the passage of another statute, regulating the method of elections, which required the magistrates to [illegible] by lot from among the whole Democracy.

The legislation requiring compulsory voting almost invariably resulted in the choice of desirable public functionaries, while the selection of magistrates by lot returned good men to office in proportion to the extent of that class in the city; either being decidedly preferable to an utter absence of election laws. This fact is demonstrated by reference to the final period of the republics of antiquity, which, in the absence of the people from the polls, degenerated, without exception, into oppressive oligarchies or monarchies; while, in the majority of cases, the inauguration of these forms of government served but to herald that country's downfall. Consider Athens, consider Sparta, consider Rome, once so seated on her seven hills; and should the peoples' indifference in the matter of elections still continue to increase, we may be called upon to chronicle the dissolution of earth's mightiest of Republics, our own native land.

The ambitious few will inevitably acquire the ascendancy in the conduct of human affairs, if the patriotic many, the people, are not stimulated and roused to a proper activity and effort. No nation on earth has ever exerted so powerful an influence over human affairs as this will certainly exercise, if we preserve our glorious system of government in its purity. The liberty of this country is a sacred depository, a watchfire which Providence has committed to us for the general benefit of mankind. It is the world's last hope; extinguish it, and the earth will be covered with eternal darkness.

AN HONEST VOTE.

The Republican party desires an honest election. Fraud is not one of its auxiliaries to strength. It can well afford to be honest and upright, for it has truth, principle and the best welfare of the country at heart, and with such potent weapons why should it not conquer? Let no Republican, no matter how great may be his ardor and interest in the cause of his party, throw one straw in the way of an opponent who is known to be as fully as himself entitled to exercise the proud preogative of an American citizen at the ballot-box; but let no generous leniency interfere to prevent any attempted frauds on the part of the opposition. Guard well the purity of the ballot-box. Neither shut your eyes to any fraudulent shortcomings on the one side or the other, for honesty in politics as well as in all affairs of life is the very best policy. Let good, honest, faithful work be the watchboards.

GENERAL NEWS.

THE disruption of Church and State is one of the measures at which British Radicals are tugging away with untiring zeal and a determination that points almost to revolution.

IN the small space, measuring twenty-five miles long and three wide, the Bermuda Islands number four hundred, separated by very narrow channels. They are mostly barren.

THE new Domesday book, which is being prepared by the British Government, will contain the name of every land owner worth an acre and upwards, together with the total extent and value of each property, and the parish in which it may be situated.

THE Jewish Chronicle says: A society of Atheists has been formed at Venice. They recently sent an address of congratulation to King Victor Emmanuel on the escape of his son and daughter-in-law from assassination. Oddly enough, forgetting they were Atheists, they "thanked Divine Providence for their miraculous escape," etc.

AT the close of a sermon by a casual clerical visitor, lately preached within a hundred miles of the Clyde, the reverend preacher stated that a gentleman would stand at the door with a plate for subscriptions, and if the sermon was not worth a shilling it was worth a sixpence, but, if it was not worth that, he would give it again for nothing.

A BALE of human hair has been lately abstracted at a railway station of Hamburg, en route for England. The bale, ponderabile pictu, weighed no less than 141 lbs., and it came out that the capillary produce was chiefly derived from lunatic and other asylums, reformatories, etc., and even some of the prisons of the higher class, as far as penalty goes. What a theme for a spirited chat at a drawing room.

A RURAL SPORT who tried to eat his pie with a fork at one of our hotels yesterday, because a city girl was sitting opposite, had the misfortune to harpoon his tongue at the second mouthful, and in his efforts to pull out the fork upset a dish of cranberry sauce in a lady's lap. He says he "don't go a cent on style hereafter, and will shovel in his food in the old manner hereafter if Queen Victoria sits next to him."—Titusville Press.

IN regard to the complaint of Michael Davitt, one of the Fenian prisoners taken while distributing arms among his friends, that he is cruelly treated by his jailors, the English Premier has caused investigations to be made, the result of which is, in the Premier's words, "to confirm me in the conviction at which the Government has arrived, that we should deviate from our public duties and compromise the interests of the community were we to admit any claim to exceptional favor in" such cases as that of Davitt.

AT a banquet on board the pioneer steamer Glamorgan, of the Cardiff Steamship Company, toasts were given to the President of the United States and the Queen of Great Britian, and success to the South Wales Steamship Company. The latter was responded to by Archibald Baxter, the agent of the line, who, in his remarks, said: "The great advantage of the line was the close connection with the great railroads on both sides. They now had on board seal skins, shipped from Alaska, via San Francisco, and they would deliver them in London without a cent for cartage."

A PRIVATE letter sent from Mexico, states that the examination of the engineers demonstrates the entire practicability of a railway line from that city to the Pacific, and the probability that there will be sufficient traffic to sustain the line. It is said that there is little or no doubt that necessary legislation will be promptly made, in which case the work will be rapidly executed. The writer adds: "There has been a great advance here in opinions respecting railways; the general public is alive to the absolute necessity of railways for the peace, prosperity, and progress of the country. Many even say it is a condition of national existence."

OF the Hall jury in New York, a correspondent writes: "After the jurymen had discussed the evidence given for the prosecution, party lines were soon drawn between the jury, which was seven Republicans and five Democrats. The Democrats contended that no testimony had been given showing that Hall had a guilty knowledge of the frauds, and the Republican jurymen replied that he was a member of the Ring, and ought to be punished. The political discussion lasted nearly all night with no prospect of an agreement. When the jury came into court, the seven Republicans were in favor of a conviction, and the five Democrats for acquittal."

THE German Aid Societies, organized for the relief of the sick and wounded during the late war, has just issued their final report. Certainly they have been generously supported, having, during the short period between Sedan and Paris, received and expended nearly fourteen millions of dollars—one million of which was contributed by America. These societies propose to use the sum—two hundred and seventy thousand dollars—now in their hands, as a permanent fund to preserve their formation and perfect all their arrangements, so as to form an organization always prepared to relieve suffering at any moment that war is commenced hereafter.

FOR its centennial exhibition, Philadelphia proposes a building to cover fifty acres of ground. The building used by the London Exhibition of 1862 covered less than half this space, or 24½ acres. To construct this building 1,350 workmen were employed for 60 weeks, and $700,000 in gold were paid for labor directly to people engaged in the structure. The building in Paris used for the exhibition of 1867 covered 39 acres. Philadelphia proposes to erect one thirty per cent. larger even than this. The United Seates has placed no money at the disposal of the commissioners to take the initiatory steps, and the government does not stand behind the scheme as in France, ready to further and foster every successive movement of the managers. The city has appropriated $50,000 as a first installment.

A NEW gas company has been chartered in Troy, N. Y., which is to manufacture the oxyhydrogen gas. They bind themselves to furnish this at 25 per cent. less than coal gas, and guarantee that it shall be much better than the other. The Trojans are felicitating themselves over the prospect of the breaking of the gas monopoly now lording it over their city. The immediate cause of the adoption of this light by the authorities of Troy is the recommendation of the Mayor of Buffalo, who says that it is used in this city for sixty street lamps, besides furnishing light to many private dwellings, stores, etc., that the light is more brilliant than the coal gas light, has a clearer, whiter, pleasanter flame; that one burner with oxyhydrogen equals six or eight with the old gas.

PERSONAL.

M. GAMBETTA has made and announced the interesting discovery that the history of France is "made up of sacrifices made for the advantage of others."

MR. GRANTLEY F. BERKLEY, who is an authority on dogs, says that "for hydrophobia there is no cure, and since the memory of man there never was."

THEODORE HOOK was asked to review a book called "Three Words to the Drunkard." Oh, my dear fellow, that I will do in three words: Pass the bottle!"

PIO PICO, the youngest old man in the State of California, is as active and vigorous as a man of forty, but was Governor of the Territory long before its occupancy by Americans.

CHARLES E. CURTIS, of Erie, Pa., Congressman elect, was a Representative from 1851 to 1855, being the successor of the Hon. James Thompson, the present Chief Justice of Pennsylvania.

THERE are two brothers, Golladay, running for Congress, viz: Edward I., in the Nashville (Tenn.) District, on the "any-body-to-beat-Grant" ticket; and Jacob S., in the Bowling Green (Ky.) District, on the "any-body-to-beat-Greeley" ticket.

THE leading physicians of the country have started a movement for raising a fund for the family of the late Horace Wells, the discover of the principle of anæsthesia. Although he conferred upon mankind a boon of inestimable value, he died poor, and his family are in want.

PROF. BLACKMORE has returned from his journeyings along the Upper Yellowstone. He brings back some $5,000 worth of photographs of Indians, &c. A monument and chapel will be erected over the grave of his wife, who accompanied him, and died at Montana, last August.

A GENTLEMAN of Centreville, Indiana, was recently lying very low, when, being a personal friend, an undertaker thought to call on the sick man and pay his respects, but to his great surprise and astonishment as soon as he entered the sick room he was greeted with, "What in the h—l do you want here? When I need you I will send for you."

A VIGNETTE of the late Thaddeus Stevens, the "Great Commoner" of Pennsylvania, has just been completed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in the Treasury Department, and will be used upon either the national currency or revenue stamps. The likeness is perfect, and the work is pronounced as one of the finest pieces of engraving ever executed.

MISS NEILSON, the accomplished English actress, has arrived in New York. She is accompanied by her husband, Mr. Lee, by whose name she is not generally known, as on the stage she retains that cognomen under which she acquired the reputation of a graceful performer of much power. Miss Neilson will shortly appear at Booth's theatre in the character of Juliet.

A CURATE in the English Diocese of Peterborough—the Rev. Peter Robson—varied the service a few Sundays ago by challenging an agricultural laborer to fight. After a good deal of provocation, the latter accepted, and several rounds were executed in presence of the congregation, who could not get into church. The curate has been reported by the Bench to the Bishop.

T. BUCHANAN READE, while in Naples, wrote the following lines, which he intended adding to his poem, "Drifting," but his illness and death prevented the execution of his purpose:

"In lofty lines, 'mid palms and pines,
And olives, aloes, elms and vines,
Sorrento swings,
On sweetest wings,
Where Tarso's spirit soars and sings."

MR. FROUDE concluded his course of historical lectures in the Cornell University Friday evening. At the close of his lecture he was serenaded by the students, who marched to the house at which he is staying bearing torchlights. An address was made in behalf of the students by a member of the Senior Class, to which Mr. Froude responded, and was then heartily cheered. Mr. Froude lectures in Brooklyn this week.

THOSE who persist in thinking that the world is growing worse and worse should remember that the people and the rest of mankind have become rather numerous, and that the steam engine and the telegraph concentrate intelligence of the wickedness scattered over wide spaces and among vast multitudes, enabling them to read at breakfast and tea time of the crimes committed in Japan, San Francisco, New York and London daily.

PEOPLE in America and Europe have heard of all sorts of strikes; but that an Emperor should strike for higher wages is surely news to them; and yet that is the very thing the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria has done. Hitherto the poor man received a beggarly civil list of five million florins. He has now informed the Parliaments of Austria and Hungary that, unless they allow him an additional two millions, he will have to go to the poor-house.

THIS statement, fabulous as it looks, is true. The Marquis of Westminister has just been furnished with a ceiling costing the enormous sum of twenty-two thousand pounds sterling. It consists of the best Spanish mahogany, two feet in thickness, a foot deep of which is elaborately carved around with the letters W. G. The cornice to the ceiling is of polished ebony of the finest description, and is three feet wide. Upon this are magnificent paintings, copies from the great masters.

PIETY and business are very pleasantly blended in the following copy of a circular, which it is said has recently been issued by a commercial firm in Bombay: "Gentlemen, we have the pleasure to inform you our respected father departed this life on the —inst. His business will be continued by his beloved sons, whose names are stated below. The opium market is quiet, and Malwa 1500rs. per chest. 'O grave! where is thy sting? O death where is thy victory?' We are yours truly—"

ULYSSES GRANT, son of the President, is in Germany, perfecting himself in the language of the country and in French. He is also keeping up his studies with the junior classes at Harvard, to which he belongs. He is not at a university, but is boarding with a private family in Gottingen. Next year he will return to enter the senior class at Harvard. The young gentleman has a good foundation already in French and German, as also has Miss Nellie, though she does not readily speak either language.

GEORGE WILKES, of the Spirit of the Times (Greeley), concludes a terrible philippic against Whitelaw Reed, the managing editor of the Tribune, by showing that he is a decided failure, and has run the Greeley ship on the rocks. He adds: "The man entrusted with the signal telegraph has failed to reflect anything for the last three months but his own emptiness, and left us nothing for the inspiration of our souls but the scant herbage of two Presidential names."

BARNUM'S "lightning calculator," whose name is William S. Hutchings, has forsaken the show business and taken to relate his religious experiences. He made his first appearance as a speaker in New York the other night, and to begin with offered a peculiar prayer, in which, according to the Sun, he expressed a hope that "as there was no run on the bank of divine grace, the sinners present might be allowed to draw on the heavenly exchequer." That sort of prayer is rather bright, but we don't know whether it is calculated to do good.

THE Paris XIXe Siecle states that the Empress Carlotta, widow of the unfortunate Maximilan, still remains at the chateau of Tervueren. Her madness has degenerated into a kind of childishness unaccompanied by violence. The only person with whom she will converse, and to him she appears attached, is her doctor. She attends upon herself, and dines always alone and standing. No affection for any of her family appears to remain, and she will not see them. Her physical health is as good as ever it was—has in fact strengthened during the past two years. All hope of cure is give up, but the doctors say her health is such as promises a long life.

IN Scotland they have narrow, open ditches called sheep drains. A man was riding a donkey one day across a sheep-pasture, and when the donkey came to a sheep-drain he would not go over it. So the man rode him back a short distance and turned him around and put the whip to him, thinking, of course, that the donkey going so fast, would jump the drain before he knew it. But not so. On they came, and when the donkey got to the drain he stopped all of a sudden, and the man went over Mr. Jack's head. No sooner had he touched the ground than he got up, and, looking the donkey straight in the face, he said: "Very weel pitched. But how are ye going to get over yerself?"

PROF. TYNDALL closed his lectures at Boston with a speech from which we copy these words: "During my stay here I have heard the 'old country' mentioned again and again. You cannot abolish your antecedents. Out of England's loins you have come. Your ancestry is stamped upon your faces, your laws, your politics, and your characters. De Tocqueville, sympathizing with Democratic institutions, says, regarding England and America: 'I refuse to regard these people as two. One is the outgrowth of the other.' Atrocious ignorance of each other is at the bottom of all our differences. I trust that hereafter each nation will respect the individuality of the other, while thoroughly maintaining its own."

HONEY BY THE TON.

The Largest Bee-Hive in The World.

[From the San Francisco Commercial Herald.]

In Los Angeles County, on the eastern slope of the San Francisco range of mountains, and in the immediate vicinity of the Leaming Petroleum Company's oil region, there is the most wonderful collection of wild honey in existence. The hive is located in a rift, which penetrates the rock to the depth of probably one hundred and sixty feet. The orifice is thirty feet long and seventeen feet wide; four passages. The rift was discovered to be the abiding place of a swarm of bees, that is represented as coming out in a nearly solid column one foot in diameter. Certain parties have endeavored to descend to the immense store of honey collected by these bees, but were invariably driven back, and one man lost his life in the effort. Others have, at the expense of much labor and money, built a scaffold one hundred and twenty-five feet high, in the hope of reaching a place whence they could run a drift into the rock, and extract its well-hoarded sweets, but finally ceased their work. Within four years the bees have added not less than fifteen feet of depth to their treasure, as ascertained by actual measurement, and it is thought that at the present time there cannot be less than eight or ten tons of honey in the rock. A man named B. Brophy lives in a cabin not far from the spot, and obtained from the melting of the honey by the sun's heat, more than enough for his family requirements. All through that region immense stores of wild honey are found in trees, in the rocks, in nearly every place where its industrious manufacturers think of,—for bees seem to think,—that it is secure. They consume a very small proportion, as the climate enables them to keep up operations nearly every day in the year, and flowers of some sort are always in bloom. It must be a very severe season indeed, when the little fellows are not seen abroad in vast numbers, busily engaged in their mellifluous work.

JOSH BILLINGS, in his famous lecture on "Milk," lately reconstructed, produces long columns of figures, with verbal explanations, to prove that mosquitoes are born of poor but industrious parents, but have in their veins some of the best blood in the country. He also states that the best way to be happy is not to want anything—till you've got it. Among other remarks properly coming under the head of "Milk," he states that the man who can wear a paper collar for a week without soiling it is worthless for anything else. He advances a large number of similar wise assertions on the subject under discussion, and generally, as he expresses it, "makes the aujence feel how utterly insignifikant is all their prevyus learnin'."

Why have your drays and wagons,

JAS. E. BURNS & CO.'S DRUG STORE,
Corner Penn and Sixth (old St. Clair) streets.

Most Important Notice.

We publish below the testimonial of Mr. James Irvin, one of our best known citizens, and a gentleman whose word may be confidently relied on, to the efficacy of Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, a cheap medicine for coughs and recent lung diseases, which Dr. K. has prepared expressly to meet the thousands of cases that are heard coughing daily through our streets, every one of which could be cured in less than forty-eight hours, and at a cost of 75 cents. Who would cough through seventy-five hours at a cent an hour, when Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup is as sure to cure them as night follows day.

DR. KEYSER:—You have asked my opinion about your cough medicine, and I can cheerfully say that I have used your Pectoral Syrup on one occasion during last spring. I thought at one time that I was surely going to have some serious pulmonary disease, as I coughed up large quantities of matter. I found my disease would not yield to anything else, as I had tried various remedies and several of the best doctors without benefit. After the first dose of your Pectoral, I received quite a relief, and had I not used the whole bottle until I was entirely cured.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, November 4, 1872.

There has been but little change in local money matters since our last report. The larger institutions, although exhibiting more confidence than they did last month, still find it somewhat troublesome in providing means for all who have claims upon them. They, however, anticipate a better state of things before the middle of the month is reached, and should no unforeseen calamity in financial matters take place, they expect to be by that time in a salubrious condition.

In New York, on Saturday, money ran down to four cents on call loans. When the rate of interest is kept down to this figure as a rule, and the importations are restricted to a reasonable amount, then the country will attain that degree of prosperity which its liberal institutions and the intelligence of its people entitle it to. Before reaching this stand-point the people of this country, so far as interest is concerned, must be placed upon as favorable a basis as those of any of the European nations.

The Boston Post of Saturday says: "There is a healthy local demand for money—a little more active, perhaps, than at the beginning of the present week, and yet the actual wants of most business men in good standing are pretty generally and promptly met by the banks, at rates by no means unprecedented or uncommon at this season of the year. We quote call loans 7 per cent. on Government collaterals, exceptions at 8 on strong pledges. Discounts at bank for parties keeping good accounts 7@7½."

The Chicago Tribune of Saturday says: "The receipts of currency from the country continue large, and the return flow of capital has evidently begun. This is the effect of better collections in the country, and is relieving, to a considerable extent, the pressure on the part of merchants for loans to meet maturing liabilities."

NEW YORK, November 4, 1872.

Money strong the greater part of the day, loaning as high as 1-32, and closing at 7 per cent. Sterling dull and nominal; sixty days' 108⅛, and sight 109⅛. Gold active and transactions large, the price ranging between 111⅝@112⅛. The chief interest was in the loan market, where borrowers were compelled to pay as high as 2 per cent. for use till Wednesday. One firm, it is said, paid $60,000 to keep its short contracts. Clearances $127,000,000. Treasury disbursements $304,000. Governments dull and slightly lower. State securities dull and firm. Stocks have been intensely dull throughout the day. In the morning prices were generally steady, with the exception of Pacific Mail, which declined 1⅛ per cent. In the afternoon prices were strong, with the principal dealings, which were not large, in Pacific Mail, Western Union, Lake Shore, Wabash, New York Central and Union Pacific. The Commercial says Chicago and North-western bonds declined at Frankfort from 89¼ to 85, on the announcement that the company pay currency instead of gold on the coupons. The German bankers refuse to accept currency offered instead of gold on the coupons of the St. Paul & Pacific road. To-morrow (election day) there will be no session of either the Gold or Stock Exchange.

CATTLE.

There was a heavy supply to-day, 1,150@1,200 head, which is considerably above an average, and it was largely in excess of the demand; the market opened dull, as the butchers soon discovered that there was an oversupply, and that they had nothing to lose by holding back, hence, it dragged all the way through and closed flat, with an unusually large number left over unsold. The quality was very common, and the supply of good cattle, considering the number on sale, being unusually small, while of scalawag stock, there was scarcely a limit; however, there was enough good cattle to supply the demand, while of the lower grades there was, as already intimated, a large number left over unsold—fully 150, perhaps 200 head. Drovers generally reported the market to-day, if such a thing was possible, as being even worse than it was last Monday—some of them thought it was the worst of the season, and so far as relates to the lower grades, we believe it was correct. Why it is that farmers will persist in thrusting forward this kind of stock when they cannot help but be aware of the fact that there has been an oversupply of this kind for several months past, we are at a loss to conjecture; though it is probable that the scarcity and consequent high price of hay has some thing to do with it—perhaps they have concluded that it will pay them better to sell their hay than feed it to cattle, and for aught we know, they may be right, but it is having a depressing effect on the market.

In addition to the 31 cars of western cattle, there were about 33 loads driven in from the adjoining counties, making 64 cars in all, or close on to 1,200 head. Prices for good cattle were about the same as last Monday; prime to extra butcher stock brought from 6¼ to 6¾; some few fancy 7 cts; medium to good, 5½@6, and common to fair, 4@5. There was a very fair demand for bulls, and about all that were on the market changed hands at prices ranging from 2¼ to 3¼ cts—mostly at 2¼@3. There were any number of old cows, rough stags and thin steers, and these were sold at all kinds of prices—holders were nearly all anxious to sell—many of them have discovered that the further east they go with this kind of trash, the more money they lose. Fresh cows were in fair supply to-day, but trade was fair, and for best grades full prices were realized; prime to extra, $55@65; fancy, $75@80; common, $40@50.

I. C. McNeese sold 10 head Butler county steers and heifers at an average of 3½ cts.

Gus Farien sold 19 from Washington county, mixed stock; one bull at 2½; balance at 4@6 cts.

Keefer & Beyer sold 17 head of fair to prime butcher stock, from Chicago, at 5 to 7 cts.

Zeigler & Lobman report 47 from Washington county, mixed stock, at 2½@6¼.

L. Rothchilds & Co sold 20 from Ohio and 12 from Washington county at 4 to 6¼; report market very bad.

Sol. Lowenthal, 17 Washington county steers at 5@5½.

Eli Katz reports one car of Tuscarawas county, Ohio, stock for C. M. Helmes; also two cars for Dillon—nearly all unsold.

Jacob Needy sold three cars of his own and one car on commission for Isaac Vannatta.

M. Krause, one car from Ohio and 16 from Washington county at 4@6½—about one-half left over.

S. Lowenstine & Co., 31 head of mixed Washington county stock at 3½@6 cts.

M. Varner, 39 head of mixed Green county stock at 3½@5¾.

Smith & Krause sold 24 head of mixed Ohio stock at 2½@6 cts.

Jacob Shamberg reports 53 head from Washington county; at 10:30 A. M. had 16 left unsold.

James Hanlin sold 28 head of Washington Co. stock at 3¾@6 cts.

Sadler, Havens & Co. report 88 head of mixed stock from Guernsey and Belmont counties, Ohio, at 3¼@5¼.

Orr, Williams & Co. 2 cars mixed Ohio stock at 4@5¾—quite a number unsold.

Carr & McAllister 3 cars of western stock at 4@6¼—a number unsold.

Kestner & Illig report 32 head of fair to extra Washington Co. stock at 4@7 cts.

Hazlewood & Blackstock 2 cars of mixed Ohio stock at 4@5¾.

Sol. Traurman 21 head fair to good Ohio steers at 4@6¾.

M. Kauffman reports 20 head of mixed Washington Co. stock at 2½@5¼.

John Beeler sold 12 head of very good Butler Co. stock at an average of 4 cts.

Flinner & Sheitmantle 29 head of mixed Butler Co. stock at 2½@4¼.

James Shaw 15 head of mixed Lawrence county stock at 2¾@5c,

Holmes & Hunter sold 1 car common Ohio stock at 2¼@3¼.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. 38 from Green and Washington counties and 22 from Ohio at 3½@6½.

Andy Stakely sold 4 bulls at 2½@3c, 25 heifers and steers, on commission, from Crawford Co, Penna, at 2¼@3½.

S. Marks & Bro. 18 head of prime to extra Ohio steers at 6¾@7c; 19 head not quite so good at 5¾@6¼; 22 from Washington county at 4@4½ cents.

NEW FEED YARDS—Barney Grey is having eight new feed yards fixed up alongside the platform where the cattle are taken off the cars; he expects to have them completed this week, and ready for occupancy by Saturday next. Part of these yards are closed in thus affording shelter for stock, which is very desirable in bad weather. Barney is determined not to be behind in furnishing accommodations for either man or beast.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply was unusually light footing up about 900 all told, and the bulk of these were very common in point of quality; butchers generally are buying very sparingly, and as a rule they want them good or not at all. Hence, common stock is excessively dull, and can only be sold at very low prices, while a few good sheep, fat and smooth, still command a fair figure; we had sales reported to us at 5¾@6 cents per lb. and these may be regarded as the very best figures that can be realized, and, that too, for the best grades. There is very little difference made now between sheep and lambs, as dealers have commenced to sell them together. There was a small lot of fancy Canada lambs sold at close on to 7 cents, but this is a fancy price.

Following embraces a pretty full report of the transactions:

Adam Eckert sold 33 of his own at $3 to $4½ per head; also 100 on commission for C. M. Helmes at $2@4.

Keefer & Ackerman 187 from Washington Co sold at $1,75@3,75.

I. C. McNeese sold 25 fairish coarse wool Butler Co. sheep at $3,50 per head.

John Cotton sold 37 good lambs from Butler Co. at $3¼.

J. Stakely 25 head common Butler Co. sheep at an average of $2.50 per head.

R. A. Stouffer sold 80 mixed Butler Co. sheep and lambs at $2,80@4½ per head.

S. A. Vandever of Beaver Co. sold 70 head same as above at $2,50@4.

Gus. Farren sold 33 nice yearlings weighing about 87 lbs. at 5,85 cts. per lb.

Neeley & Fairley 93 from Beaver Co; sold sheep at $2½ per head to 5½ cents per lb, lambs at $2@4.

John Montgomery reports 112 head fairish to prime lambs, from Armstrong county at $3½@4½.

John F. Neeley sold 30 head of extra Washington county sheep averaging 100 lbs. at six cents.

R. M. Caslin sold 17 extra Canada lambs averaging 85 lbs. at about 7 cents per lb.

Wm. Adams had 60; sold tops at 5¾ cents per lb.

HOGS.

There is a continued good demand for this class of stock, and trade at these yards is steadily increasing; prices as compared with last Monday are without quotable change, though, in sympathy with East Liberty, the feeling was firmer. Sales were made in a regular way at 4¾@5¼, gross, according to quality.

BEANS—Are in good supply, the arrivals during the past week having been large, but prices are still maintained, $2,50@3 per bushel.

CIDER—The receipts continue light, but the demand is also light, and we continue to quote nominally at $4,50@6 per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—The demand continues very meagre, and is likely to continue so until after the approaching holidays. Apples, 4@6 per lb; Peaches, 8@9 cts for prime halves.

EGGS—There is a fair demand, and quotations may be fairly given at 28@30; some dealers, report that there is not much difficulty in realizing 30 for strictly fresh, while others contend that it is almost impossible to obtain over 28.

FEATHERS—No. 1 live geese may be quoted at 72 to 75 to the trade and 3 to 5c additional for smaller lots.

FISH—Following quotations are for full peights; Bay Mackeral No. 1, $18 per bbl. Shore No. 1, $20; do. No 1, extra, $22; Mess No. 1, $25; extra No. 1 do., $30; extra No. 2, $14; No. 2, $12; No. 3 large, $10. White Fish, $6. Trout, $5. Lake Herring, $3. Medium Cod, 6c per lb, large cod, 7 cents.

FLOUR—The market continues quiet and is devoid of any new features worthy of notice, excepting, perhaps, that it is a shade weaker, particularly spring wheat, though there is no change in prices. We continue to quote, in a jobbing way, at $7,50@8 for fair to choice spring, and $8,00@8,50 for fair to choice winter wheat. Rye Flour, $5,25@5,50.

GRAIN—The demand for Wheat continues rather light, but with a very limited supply prices are still maintained, $1,65@1,68 fer prime to choice red and $1,80@1,85 for white. The supply of Oats continues somewhat in excess of the demand, and prices are weak though unchanged; 39 to 40 for mixed and 41 to 42 for white. The feeling prevails that prices cannot go much lower; and some operators anticipate an advance once the country roads get into bad condition, which is usually the case at this particular season of the year, preventing them from being moved in first hands. Shelled Corn is also reported dull, though unchanged; 56 cts. on track and 58 in elevator—dealers generally prefer selling on track when it is possible as it saves the elevator charges. Rye continues very quiet and in the absence of sales, we continue to quote at 78 to 80. Barley is less active but unchanged; 80 to 85 for common to prime and 90 for choice.

GROCERIES—Coffee—The market is quiet, but with light stocks of Rio in every market; prices at the late advance are firmly sustained. Java easy. Sugars—An estimate of the stock of raw sugar develops the fact that there are but 73,000 hogsheads, all told, in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston, against 153,000 hogsheads at same date last year—consequently all descriptions of raw and refined sugars are high, and it is believed that no diminution in value can occur until the new crop makes its appearance, in February and March. The eastern refiners are quoting standard soft A's at 12½c in round lots, and at our quotations it will be seen that there is but a small margin for our jobbers. Syrups easy; Greer, Turner & Co.'s fine syrups having taken the place of Stuart's, are quoted at 1,35 in this market, and finds ready sale.

SUGARS—Granulated, 13¾; Crushed, 13¾c Powdered, 13¾; A Coffee, 13; B, 12⅝; Ex. C 12¾; C., 12⅜; Chespeake Ex. C., 12¼; Molasses Sugars, 8¼@10; Porto Rico, 10¾@11; Demarara, 11½@11¾.

COFFEE—Choice Rio 23; Prime 22; Good 21; Fair 20; Java 25 to 26; Mocha 32. Roasted in lb. packages 25; loose 24½.

RICE—Carolina, 8¼@9; Rangoon, 7@7¾; Patna 8.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 23; Allspice, 18; Cassia, 40; Clover, 30; Nutmegs, $1,25.

HAY—Is coming in quite freely, and with a diminished demand the market is weak and holders generally are more anxious to realize. We reduce our quotations for baled, on track, to $25@30, as to quality and condition.

HONEY—Sales 25@30 cts per lb.

LARD OIL—Is firmer and in light supply; No. 1 winter strained may be quoted at 78@80 cents.

ONIONS—In good supply, but unchanged; sales at $2,50@3,25 per bbl, according to quality.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with 4 feet 8 inches in the channel last evening. Weather growing colder, and last evening the clouds were broken up and the indications were favorable for fine weather.

The Brill from Cincinnati is the only transient arrival we have to report. She will at once commence making engagements for Nashville.

The Carrie Brooks departed for Wheeling with a moderate trip.

The Julia No. 2 did not arrive from Zanesville, as anticipated, the Muskingum river being too low to let her out.

The Arlington was still aground at Merriman at last accounts; however, she was still being lightened and will no dubt soon be off—we expect to find her at the landing this morning. Upon her arrival she will at once commence loading for New Orleans.

The Juniata was at Steubenville at 10 o'clock A. M. yesterday, and she was expected to arrive last night; however she will doubtless have to lighten up some, as she was reported drawing five feet. She will return to Cincinnati forthwith.

The Exchange is about due from Cincinnati, and, as will be seen by card, Capt. Evans contemplates making a trip to St. Louis.

—The Natchez hasn't matters now all her own way in the lower river. The New Orleans National Republican says: "There will be two fine steamers leaving on Saturday, the far-famed Natchez and the steamer Katie; both leave here on the same day, the Katie extending her trips as far a Memphis. The Belle Lee leaves every alternate Saturday for the same place. We fear there is too many irons in the fire—some of them will get burnt."

—Charlie Dittman, pilot on the Gen. Lytle, celebrated his silver wedding last Monday at his present residence, within a mile and a half of the spot where he was married, in Nelson county, Ky.

—The longshoremen of Vicksburg struck on the 28th for an increase of pay from $2 to $3 per day.

—The Iron Mountain was to have left Carondelet on Sunday, with 1,000 tons of ore in four barges.

—Capt. A. J. Ross has purchased an interest in the steamer Nashville, at the rate of $13,000. Mr. Ross was formerly clerk of the R. C. Gray.

—The Utah is said to have struck the wreck of the Brilliant below Cairo.

—The banks of the river below Memphis are covered with cotton bales awaiting shipment.

Speedily Cured.—All Forms of Venereal, Private and Nervous disease at the old established Girard Medical Institute, No. 172 Second avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets, Pittsburgh Pa.
NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.
Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief. Spermatorrhea, or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse or excess in maturer years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential.
This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of Private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country that have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured many cases given up by other physicians.
Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address:

The first course of Temperance Lectures were given in the M. E. Church, corner Smithfield and Seventh streets, this city.

A full and concise history of the work in this county will be found in the December number of the Christian Alliance. Meetings will be held as follows, during this week—First ward Pittsburgh, Monday November 4—Mt. Washington, Sixth and Ninth wards Allegheny, on Thursday evening November 7.

Result of a Hallowe'en Prank.

Some of the pranks played by boys on Hallow'een pass beyond the limits of boyish sport and become positively maliciously mischievous. This fact was illustrated in New Brighton, last Thursday night. Dr. Simpson, of that place, during the early part of the evening was called to see a patient in the outskirts of the town, and while driving along in his buggy, suddenly met with an obstruction in the road in the shape of a rope stretched across the roadway. The buggy was overturned and the Doctor being thrown out, sustained a severe fracture of the skull. He was fortunately discovered a few minutes after the accident, and taken into a house near by, where he lay unconscious for several hours, notwithstanding all the efforts of medical skill. He is yet in a very precarious condition, and fears are entertained of the result.

A Daylight Burglary—The Bold Operator Arrested.

Yesterday afternoon a very bold burglary was committed in Allegheny and the perpertrator captured. About three o'clock a young man named John Harrison, entered the bar room of the Germania House, at the corner of South Canal and Chestnut streets, and walking through the room passed up stairs into the room of the proprietor, Joseph Weber. Here he deliberately commenced to ransack a bureau from which he took two hundred dollars in money, a set of shirt-studs and a breast-pin. While he was making a further investigation for the other valuables a servant girl entered the room and discovered the thief. Harrison beat a hasty retreat into the back-yard, where he hid the money in a pipe. The alarm was given, and Lieut. Brooks and officer Couch arrived and arrested Harrison and escorted him to the lock-up. He was searched and the jewelry found upon his person. The officers returned to the shed and soon found the money. Mr. Weber afterwards made an information before Mayor Callow, charging Harrison with larceny, and he will have a hearing this morning.

A SOCIAL HOUR.

A Fraternal Assemblage—An Evening Pleasantly Spent.

Last evening a pleasant, fraternal company assembled at the residence of James McBrier, Esq., No. 230 North avenue, Allegheny, the occasion being a friendly visit of the Allegheny Glee Club, and a few personal friends to the popular President of Select Council. The gathering was altogether informal in character, and for that reason perhaps all the more enjoyable. Although the numbers were not large, the company embraced a number of city officials, a few prominent citizens, and members of the club under the leadership of Prof. W. H. Slack, and the evening was most delightfully spent with music, vocal and instrumental, pleasantly interspersed with social intercourse, and agreeably supplemented with a bountiful feast, which formed not the least enjoyable feature of the occasion. The gathering was conspicuous for the fraternal feeling which prevailed and for the graceful tact of the hospitable host and hostess in their successful efforts to secure thorough enjoyment for every guest. The company separated shortly after eleven o'clock, with the brightest memories of their kind entertainers and the most agreeable recollections of a thoroughly enjoyable evening of social pleasure.

Vote early on to-day, and spend the day in getting the Republicans to vote; the day is a legal holiday, and you cannot attend to your private business.

A MYSTERY SOLVED.

Discovery of a Suicide Near Sewickley—Supposed to be the Body of Charles Felix.

On Sunday noon the body of a suicide was discovered near Sewickley, which is supposed to be that of Mr. Charles Felix, who suddenly and mysteriously disappeared from his home in Lawrenceville about a week ago. The body was found in Leet township, suspended by the neck from a branch of a tree very near the ground. Two bandanna handkerchiefs had been tied together as a rope, and the body was inclined almost to a sitting posture. It was cold and stiff, and the man had evidently been dead for some time. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Mr. Marlett in Sewickley, and Justice Rudesill empannelled a jury to hold an inquest, but adjourned it without rendering a verdict.

The deceased was apparently a German, and looked to be about thirty years of age. He was five feet six inches high, and quite stout. His face was broad, and he had dark hair and goatee. In his pockets were found two street car tickets and a card bearing the advertisement of Felix & Son's extract of coffee manufactory in Lawrenceville. There was nothing else found on him by which he could be identified. Several gentlemen who were intimataly acquainted with Mr. Felix, express themselves very positively that the body of the deceased is that of the missing man. The completion of the investigation, however, will reveal whether or not they are correct.

NOT LIGHT FINGERED.

Pick Pockets in Allegheny—They go for Judge Agnew, of Beaver, but make a Water Haul.

The light-fingered boys are always to be found around a railroad depot, and generally speaking, sure of their game before they shoot, but one of these fine gentlemen missed his mark on Saturday, when attempting to replenish his treasury without sweating his brow. On Saturday afternoon, among those who were anxious to get aboard of the Cleveland express, at the Allegheny depot, was Hon. Judge Agnew of the Supreme Bench, who was on his way home to Beaver to spend the Sabbath. The Judge, anxious to get a good seat, and probable to get out of the miserable depot the passengers have for waiting in, in Allegheny, on the arrival of the train made a rush for the car, and succeeded in getting upon the first steps of the platform, when a young, genteel looking man jumped on the opposite side, and crossed to the place where His Honor was, and stretching both arms across the railings of the end of the car, asked him if that was the "Chicago Express," and if so, how long it would be before it would start. Arranging his glasses, Judge Agnew glanced up to see whether he knew the gentleman or not, but before he could prepare himself for an answer or satisfaction on the question an equally well dressed young man came up behind him with the advice to "hurry up, old man, the train is about moving," and at the same time shoving him rudely, and, strange to say, his hand found its way into the Judge's pocket. The latter no sooner felt the boy's familiarity with him, when he dropped his carpet-sack to grab him, but as if by magic, the two were gone, and to the Judge minus a box of cut and dry tobacco. The thieves thought they saw a fat pocket-book, and so it was, judging from outside appearances. Had they succeeded in getting into the other pocket, they no doubt would have done well, as the Judge had, we understand, several hundred dollars with him. No doubt these same individuals will be trying their hands on others, and a sharp lookout for them should be kept by the police.

PITTSBURGH COUNCILS.

Important Meeting Yesterday.

RECEPTION OF MEMBERS FROM THE SOUTH SIDE.

The Public Ceremonies—The Fraternal Addresses—Regular Business of Council—A Large Amount of Unfinished Business Disposed of—Important Reports from the Committees—Equalization Once More to the Front—Fighting the Battle O'er Again—The South Side Members Have a Vote—The Result Not Changed.

Yesterday was an important meeting of Pittsburgh Councils, it being the first formal recognition of consolidation with the South Side. Accordin to the programme previously arranged the members of Councils from the South Side met at the end of the Monongahela bridge at about one o'clock, and formed in line. Some fifteen or twenty minutes afterwards the reception committee of Councils, consisting of Messrs. Burgwin, Ahl and Hunter, of Select, and Messrs. Arthurs, McConway, R. H. Negley and Deitrich, of Common Council, proceeded across the bridge, headed by the Great Western Band. As soon as the committee entered upon the bridge, the South Side members took up the line of march, and in the center of the structure, which spans the figurative "bloody chasm" of opposition to consolidation, a halt was ordered. Dr. Arthurs, chairman of the Reception Committee, then stepped forward, and in behalf of City Councils and of the citizens generally, extended to the new members a hearty welcome.

The band faced about and the procession then proceeded to City Hall, and the delegation proceeded to the reception room, the band taking a position on the balcony.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

Dr. A. ARTHURS introduced W. H. Oliver, Jr., Esq., President of Common Council, who delivered the following address of welcome:

Gentlemen and Members of Council from the South Side: On behalf of my associates here, the members of Select and Common Councils, I desire to welcome you to-day to seats in our municipal legislature. Called by law, you are here to-day as the representatives of thirty-six thousand people, who from this time forward are citizens of Pittsburgh. Many years ago far-seeing men considered the manifest destiny of the numerous corporations that clustered around the head of the Ohio and prophesied we would count its population by hundreds of thousands instead of thousands. The first step towards that was the assession of the territory east of us. Pittsburgh overflowed its boundaries and reached out into the township; police and fire protection were demanded, improved roads and other things impossible under the old order of affairs. After much opposition the consolidation act passed and I need not tell you the benefits that have resulted from it, but few are ready now to dispute the wisdom of that act.

But you came to us of your own will, with thirteen boroughs, comprising a population nearly as large as Pittsburgh was eight years ago, and presenting no portionless part in the municipal wedding. The wealth of the boroughs of the South Side it would be impossible to calculate. From Ormsby to Temperanceville it is a solid mass of manufactures. Your glass works are numbered by the fifties and your rolling mills by the dozen. More than that, you come to us free from debt, in an extraordinary and enviable condition, and one in which I wish that we were. We welcome you to all we own—to our fire departments which we think is excelled by none in the country; we welcome you to our Board of Health, to our municipal building, and to our new water works, which I trust will have a capacity to supply you all.

We greet you to-day as citizens of Pittsburgh. In ancient times a Roman citizen had the freedom of the world. To-day the American needs no other protection but such as his citizenship gives him. I welcome you as citizens of Pittsburgh. Those who go abroad from this vicinity frequently register themselves from Pittsburgh, but still they avail the responsibility of the name bearing a burden without cause. I need not say all here are glad to meet you. I need not say this opportunity of wedding the young to the old is a pleasure to us. From this day forth we meet you as citizens of Pittsburgh, and from this time forth, this city will take its proper place amongst the great cities of the land.

THE RESPONSE.

Mr. John Adams one of the recently elected Councilmen from the South Side, responded as follows:

Gentlemen of the Select and Common Council of Pittsburgh:

Permit me to return the sincere thanks of the South Side delegates for the hearty manner in which you have greeted us. They will never be forgotten. I am sorry that some one has not been selected who was better able to reply to the remarks made. We can realize the fact that we have not always been in Pittsburgh. All these things take place in a short time. It has truly been said that when away from here our names were registered from Pittsburgh. I think that was an error of judgment and probably it will never occur again. [Cheers.]

We are glad that we can meet under such favorable auspices to-day. We come representing a population of over 30,000.

* * * * * * *

I hope that our future intercourse may be as happy as this reception.

REMARKS OF PRESIDENT GROSS.

PRESIDENT GROSS said that he could only reiterate the remarks made, and he hoped that all meetins hereafter might be as pleasant as the first.

The members of Council then retired to their respective chambers.

THE SOUTH SIDE MEMBERS.

Mayor Blackmore was introduced and presented to the President the certificates of election of the members from the South Side. Many of the certificates did not state which of the members were elected for two years, and the returns were as follows:

INSTALLATION OF THE NEW MEMBERS.

The returns were adopted.

Mr. BURGWIN moved that the new members from the South Side be now sworn in. Carried.

The members elect then presented themselves before the President's desk, and the oath of office was administered.

The Clerk then called over the list of members from the South Side.

Mr. BURGWIN stated that the Consolidation Act specified that in cases where the length of the term of members was not specified, Select Council should settle the rule. He would move that in cases where the question was not settled, the members receiving the highest vote hold over for two years. Carried.

THE WATER COMMISSION.

The Water Commissioner's report presented at last meeting of Common Council, was read and adopted.

A large amount of Common Council business was concurred in.

THE MAYOR'S CLERK.

The resolution of Common Council relative to the instruction of the Ordinance Committe to prepare an ordinance making the office of Mayor's clerk elective by the people was read.

Mr. MCCARTHY stated that the passage of a resolution on the adoption of its object would disorganize the Mayor's office. It was necessary that the clerk should be a man having the confidence of the people.

The resolution was laid over under the rule.

Mr. LLOYD presented the report of the Water Committee for September, which was filed.

Mr. AIKEN moved to suspend the rules and pass the resolution relating to the Mayor's clerk. Lost.

VARIOUS REPORTS.

The report of Viewers on the opening of Thirty third street, was called up and approved.

The ordinance for a sewer on Butler street from Thirty-third to Thirty-ninth, was called up.

Mr. JEREMY stated that the petition was not signed by any number of property holders, and among those signing it was a resident of Birmingham.

Mr. PEARSON also opposed the sewer, and the ordinance was indefinitely postponed.

The report of viewers relative to the damages sustained by T. H. Sherman, on Dinwiddie street, was read and approved.

The ordinance repealing the ordinance creating a street and sewer improvement fund, read once at last meeting, was called up, read a second time and laid over.

Common Council ordinance changing the grade of Harrison street was read a second time and laid over under the rules.

Mr. LIDDEL then called it up again and moved a suspension of the rules and the final passage of the ordinance. Carried.

DIVISION OF THE SEVENTEENTH WARD.

Mr. CHISLETT presented a petitition to divide the Seventeeth ward into two election precincts to be divided by Forty-fourth street.

Mr. CHISLETT stated there were over 1,400 votes in the ward and at the last election over 200 could not be got in.

Mr. MORROW thought the objection that such a division would give the ward undue influence in political conventions held good in this case.

Mr. RIDDELL favored the ordinance, and on motion it was read three times, and passed finally.

THE PENN AVENUE BONDS.

Mr. PHILLIPS presented an ordinance authorizing a temporary loan for the payment of interest on bonds for the improvement of Penn avenue and other avenues in the city.

The rules were suspended and the ordinance passed finally by a unanimous vote.

Mr. PHILLIPS called up the ordinance repealing the ordinance creating a Street and Sewer Improvement Fund, and the report of the special committee.

Mr. BURGWIN said there were many reasons why the ordinance should not be passed.

COL. PHILLIPS inquired were the money was to come from to pay the contractors.

Mr. MCCARTHY moved a suspension of the rules to consider the ordinance. Lost.

A petition for a change of grade on John street was referred to the Street Committee.

SOUTH SIDE POLICEMEN.

Mr. E. P. JONES moved that the Mayor be authorized to detail twenty-five policemen for the South Side. Adopted.

Mr. PEARSON moved to adjourn.

THE EQUALIZATION ORDINANCE.

Mr. BURGWIN presented an ordinance repealing the Equalization Ordinance.

Mr. PEARSON renewed his motion to adjourn.

Mr. BURGWIN called for the reading of his paper.

Mr. RIDDELL raised the point of order that the Equalization Ordinance had not yet been signed.

The Chair declined to entertain the motion, pending a motion to adjourn, and the point of order was withdrawn by Mr. Riddell. Adjourned.

In all business not otherwise noted Select Council concurred in the action of C. C.

Thirty-fourth Ward, (West Pittsburgh)—Patrick Foley.

Thirty-fifth Ward, (Temperanceville)—Adolph Oberheldmann.

Mr. MCCANDLESS moved that the returns as read be approved. Carried.

Clerk McMaster then called the roll, and the members elect ranged themselves in front of the desk to take the oath of office, which was administered by President Oliver. All the members were present except Mr. Frances. After the oath of office had been taken the new members resumed their seats, and business was regularly proceeded with.

Mr. MCCANDLESS offered the following:

Resolved, That the Controller be and he is hereby authorized to certify for warrants for $362.50 expenses of election officers for the election of members of Council from the South Side, and charge the same to Contingent Fund.

Rules suspended and the resolution passed finally.

OLD BUSINESS DISPOSED OF.

Regular business of Council was then taken up—the regular order being unfinished business left over at last meeting. The following business from Select Council was taken up and concurrences had. In passing finally ordinance for Street Improvement Fund. Accepting report of Finance Committee in reference to Young contract; accepting Gas Committee's report and ordering lamps; accepting report of Ordinance Committee, and in passing finally as recommended the ordinance for opening of Butler street from Forty-ninth street to near Morningside Road; passing finally also ordinance for grading, paving and curbing of Butler street opened by the preceding ordinance, the same to be under the Penn avenue act; passing finally ordinance for opening Ridge street; filing report of Committee on Locust street; approving bill of Bennet Lake for serving notices and passing appropriate resolution.

When the ordinance for dividing the Twenty-second ward into two election precincts was taken up.

Mr. SNEATHEN offered preamble and resolutions in reference to the matter setting forth that as the report of the Citizens Committee dividing the ward had been altered without authority by two members of the committee and subsequently further amended by Select Council that Common Council adhere to its former action and divide the ward as directed by Council.

Mr. BARR moved that C. C. adhere to its former action and refer to a Committee of Conference of two from each Council. Carried, and Messrs. Sneathen and Barr appointed in behalf of C. C.

THE STREET COMMITTEE.

Mr. ARTHURS Chairman of the Street Committee, presented their report showing $27,108.66 expenditures during the month. The Committee also presented the following business which was reported of as noted:

Ordinance establishing width of sidewalks on Overhill street. Passed finally under suspension of rules. Ordinance authorizing change of a grade on Twenty-ninth street from Allegheny Valley railroad to rivers. Ordinance opening Second avenue from Cross street to western line of Miltenberger street; rules suspended and ordinance passed finally. Ordinance for construction of seventy-eight inch pipe sewer on Church ally. Rules suspended and ordinance passed finally. Ordinance for grading and paving of Hemlock alley. The rules were suspended to consider the ordinance.

Mr. MCCANDLESS by permission here offered a resolution instructing the Street Committee to postpone the letting of any contracts for the present.

The gentleman explained that he offered the resolution because there was now an ordinance before the Select Council providing for a repeal of ordinance No. 30, which provides for appropriation for the Street Committee—in order that the old plan might be again put in practice. By the old method the property holders—petitioned for the street improvement and the contractor was paid by them—the city advancing no money. Ordinance No. 30 provided that the city should make some ordinance on the contracts, and then get the money back again, when the assessments were paid in. It was proposed to repeal this ordinance as it was a needless burden to the city, and to go back to the old plan.

After some discussion the resolution was voted down.

The ordinance was then passed finally. Ordinance for grading and paving Plum alley. Rules suspended and ordinance passed finally. Ordinance for sewer on Elm street. Rules suspended and ordinance passed finally. Resolution referring to Board of Viewers on Street Improvement, the matter of repaving Smithfield street. Laid over as there was no petition for the improvement. Report of Viewers to the effect that the proposed re-grading and repaving of Cherry alley was of local benefit only; report received and ordinance for the work passed finally under a suspension of the rules. Report of Viewers on opening Smallman street. Approved. Profile of Thirtieth street; approved.

ASSESSMENTS.

Assessments on Grant street sewer, approved. Assessments on Van Buren and Locust streets, approved. Assessment of State alley sewer, approved. Assessment of Pride street sewer, approved. Report of viewers on Mulberry alley approved. Assessment of Ninth street sewer, approved. Opening plan of Vine street, approved.

Mr. MATTERN presented a petition from Mr. A. Hartupee, asking for privilege to lay a switch from track on Liberty street to his shop—about two hundred and fifty feet. Referred to Street Committee.

POLICE COMMITTEE.

Mr. D. L. FLEMING presented the report of the Police Committee for July. Received and filed.

NEW SURVEYS.

MR. JOHN FLEMING presented the report of the Survey Committee for the months of July and September. Received. The following business was disposed of as noted:

Ordinance for vacation of Elmer street. Passed finally under suspension of rules. Ordinance for vacation of alleys in Winebiddle's plan of lots. Rules suspended and ordinance passed finally. Resolution authorizing the transfer of $1,500 from the contingent fund to Appropriation No. 23. Referred to the Finance Committee, to report at next meeting if the contingent fund had the money. Plan of Butler street; approved. Plan of streets in Twenty-first and Twenty-second wards; approved. Plan of Arch street; approved. Profile of Hazelwood avenue; approved. Profile of Second avenue; approved. Profile of Williams' plan of lots in Twenty-third ward, approved. Burkowitz plan, Oakland; approved. Plan of Spencer avenue; approved. Plan of Thirty ninth street; approved. Plan of Transit alley, Twenty-second ward; approved. Burowitz plan of lots in Twenty-second ward; plan of Tinpot alley; approved. Plan of L. E. Johns lots, Nineteenth ward; approved. Plan of Carr & Schmertz's lots; approved. Plan of proposed change of Alder street; approved. Plan of Martin and Elder streets; approved.

THE WYLIE AVENUE RIOT.

Mr. ARTHURS.—A resolution authorizing Controller to certify warrant for $50 in favor of W. K. McClintock for forfeited recognizance in the case of John Bell.

The gentlemen explained that Mr. Bell had been shot during the riot on Wylie avenue, and had been taken to the lockup. Mr. McClintock had put up $50 for his appearance at a hearing, but at the time Mr. Bell was unable to leave his bed and the money was forfeited,—notice of Mr. Bell's condition not having reached the Mayor in time.

Mr. JONES opposed the resolution. He thought such a procedure would open a wide door for future annoyance. Every man who had enough friends in Council and was caught in that way would present his claim to Council and Council would continually be annoyed by such claims. Then again he considered it strictly a partisan affair, and if such a resolution was passed it would be a disgrace to every Republican member of Council. Part of the money would have to come directly out of the City Treasury, as the Mayor had taken a part of the original as his proceeds.

Mr. OLIVER [Mr. McCandless in the chair] thought differently. It was not a party case. It was simply an act of justice. The action was approved by the Mayor. Mr. Bell was unable to leave his bed, and sent word to the Mayor, but the notice did not reach him before the bail was forfeited and the only way to rectify the matter was to appeal to Council. It was an unfortunate affair all around, and he was sorry it had ever been brought up, but he believed this was an equitable way of settling it. After some further discussion the resolution was adopted.

Mr. MCCANDLESS.—A resolution instructing the Street Committee to urge the contractors for the grading and paying of De Villier's street. Passed.

Mr. John Moore's petition for opening of Shaw street according to plan. Referred to Street Committee.

EQUALIZATION AGAIN.

Mr. W. B. NEGLEY desired to call up the equalization ordinance.

Several motions to adjourn were heard.

Mr. NEGLEY insisted that he was in order.

The Chair decided that no motion to adjourn was in order while a matter of business was pending.

Several members expressed their conviction that the matter had been settled at the last meeting.

Mr. NEGLEY—No, it wasn't. There were parliamentary tactics then used, but they defeated the object intended. The ordinance was passed. A motion was made to reconsider, and it was almost immediately laid on the table. That motion is on the table now, and I call it up. I ask the chair to decide.

The Chair decided that such was the case, and that the motion could be called up at any time.

Mr. MCCANDLESS thought a motion to adjourn was in order at any time.

The Chair decided it was not so when a member had the floor.

After some further parliamentary practice.

Mr. NEGLEY was allowed to continue and proceeded to argue that there had been undue haste in passing the ordinance. That it was passed without allowing the South Side members to have a vote on it. That the consolidation act expressly provided that Council had jurisdiction over the South Side until it were represented, and that the equalization ordinance consequently was unconstitutional. No election to fill offices under it could be held on the South Side. The South Side had been treated ungentlemanly, unfairly. He didn't know how the South Side members would vote—had only talked with two of them—but thought they ought to have a vote—that they ought to have time to learn what it was about; the ordinance had never been published and few people understood it. He wanted to call attention to what the ordinance required. It merely required a man to return his property,—his real estate—that was subject to taxation but made no mention of his occupation, his bonds and mortgages, etc. There were many men who did'nt own a cent's worth of property, who yet made from five to ten thousand a year firm their occupations and stocks.

Mr. OLIVER—Well then offer an ordinance to remedy the evils.

Mr. NEGLEY—I did offer an amendment and it was voted down,—I wanted "all subjects of taxation" inserted but couldn't get it.

Mr. OLIVER—(Mr. McCandles in the chair) replied at length to the gentleman from the Twentieth ward. He hoped members would not try to shirk the fight. In Select Council as soon as Mr. Burgwin had mentioned the subject they had adjourned. He hoped Common Council wouldn't do that. He thought they had enough present to whip them—to carry the ordinance through again, and hoped they would meet the issue squarely. At the same time he thought the method of the opposition was cowardly. They had been fairly beaten, and yet they took every possible catch. It was a mistake to say the ordinance had not been published. It had been printed in the official papers; had been the theme of general conversation, and was well understood.

The gentleman then proceeded to again argue the benefits of equalization, which he characterized as a necessity, to bring all property owners and tax payers on a level. He had no fear but the South Side members would vote all right on the question, and did not object to allowing them to vote. This fight was against a few who had large landed estates, and never paid their equivalent to the city. He hoped the question would be settled again by a fair and square vote.

The Chair then announced the question to be, "shall we reconsider."

A vote was taken, but before being announced.

Mr. JOHNS called the yeas and nays, which being taken, resulted as follows:

Ayes.—Messrs. Barr, Barker, Baum, Beymer, Campbell, Darlington, Dickson, John Fleming, Johns, Kohne, Mattern, R. H. Negley, W. B. Negley, Sneathen, Williams, West, Rahauser, Arnholt, Trautman, Kerr, Maple, Wilbert, Foley, Oberheldmann, Richards—25.

Nays.—Messrs. Arthurs, Bindley, Cameron, Carroll, D. L. Fleming, Fulton, Galisath, Hauch, Jones, Kerr, Lappan, Liebler, Lowery, Meyer, Moffitt, John Moore, Morgan, McCandless, McGimpsey, Neeson, Patterson, Price, Riley, Sims, Spreyer, Watson, President Oliver, Bryce, Brashear, Boyd, Lee, Hays, Rolfe, Laughran—34.

The Chair announced the motion lost. The result was received with applause from the lobby.

Adjourned.

Republicans should give all of to-day to their cause; it is a legal holiday, and should be sacredly employed.

Castle Shannon Lots.

The recent great auction sale of lots by the Pittsburgh and Castle Shannon Railroad Company, having been appreciated by the generous and liberal patronage of a decerning public, thus assuring beyond peradventure the permanent success of the project of establishing a flourishing village in a fertile section, with the most delightful surroundings, within a few miles of, and convenient of access to the city on the completion of their railroad, and running of regular passenger trains in December next. The company, in view of the advanced season, have resolved to defer further public sales until next spring, but will, meanwhile, in compliance with an urgent demand of numerous parties who were unable to attend the public sale, continue to sell at private sale on their liberal terms of ten per cent. down and twenty quarterly payments. Buyers will call at the general office, No. 75 Fourth avenue, or at their office, Carson street, South Pittsburgh; also at their office at Castle Shannon, George Smith, agent, who is authorized to make sales. Plans of the lots and full information can be had at all the above named places. Now is the time to buy, before passenger trains are put on the road, as after that time lots will not be offered at present prices. TTHS

Masks and Faces.

Ladies who mask their necks and faces with enamels endanger their health to no purpose. The plaster work deceives nobody. There is but one article known which will restore a blemished complexion or create external brilliancy and bloom where they have never heretofore existed, and that article is Hagan's Magnolia Balm. It performs this toilet miracle by infusing vitality to the skin. The floral and herbal juices of which it is composed gently stimulate the circulation in the minute blood vessels, and brace the network of nerves through which they pass. Thus quickened and strengthened the external covering soon acquires a fresh and healthful hue, and every trace of sallowness disappears. The palest cheeks derive from the beautifying baptism of this delightful cosmetic a warmer hue, and the arms, hands and neck a blonde lustre which the charlatans, who profess to make ladies "beautiful forever" with their poisonous cement, can never hope to imitate.

The General Verdict.

The merits of the American Buttonhole and Overseaming machine bave been so often referred to in the newspapers, that it seems a work of supererogation to add anything more, but when testimonials are coming daily from parties who have made peactical tests of the American, it is not too much to note at least the general verdict which is that the American is all that a sewing machine could be, and that in practical use it fully justifies the high praise bestowed upon it. The general agent of the American is Mr. James Espy at 178 Liberty street.

POLYTECHNIC ASSOCIATION.

Meeting Last Evening—Discussing the Balance Valve—The Horse Disease to be Considered.

The Polytechnic Association held a regular meeting last evening at their room, corner of Penn and St. Clair streets, President Paul in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The President suggested that hereafter the names of candidates for membership be laid on the table for one week before being considered. The name of Mr. Jenks was laid over until the next meeting.

Mr. Armstrong moved that a committee be appointed to make arrangements for securing capable persons to give scientific lectures before the Association during the winter.

The motion was carried and the chair appointed Messrs. Armstrong, Allen and Turner as such committee.

Mr. Lowry thought that there was sufficient talent in the Association to deliver interesting and profitable lectures without employing foreign talent.

On motion, the Lecture Committee was given authority to select subjects and procure capable persons to deliver lectures upon the subjects selected.

Under the head of unfinished business the discussion of Mr. Armstrong's new balance valve was continued.

Mr. Armstrong presented the drawing of another valve, patented by Mr. Cameron.

The President suggested that Messrs. Armstrong and Cameron discuss the merit of their respective valves.

Mr. Cameron declined to enter in such discussion, and stated that he never had yet seen a balance valve, and, furthermore, didn't believe there was one in existence.

After discussing the balance valve until the hour for adjournment, Mr. Gould moved that at the next meeting the subject of the horse disease be taken up.

A member suggested that the consideration of the horse disease was a little outside the routine of the Association, especially as the members were so innocent on that subject.

Mr. Kirk said that if the discussion of the Slide valve was the routine of the Association the horse disease would certainly be outside the routine of business.

The motion finally prevailed, and the public in general, and veterinary surgeons in particular, were invited to attend the next meeting and participate in the discussion.

On motion the Association adjourned.

PERNICIOUS PURGATIVES.

The brilliant idea of half a century ago that the weak and ailing could be bled, blistered and salivated into a condition of health and vigor is happily exploded; but violent and prolonged purgation is still, to some extent, in vogue. We have impostors who are daring enough to offer to the world, as tonics and restoratives, the most destructive cathartics, unmodified by a single stimulating, soothing or restorative element. Compare the operation of one of these terrible nostrums with that of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in which are combined the three great curative elements—a tonic, an alterative, and an aperient. The former completely paralyzes the vital forces, so that nature can make no resistance to disease; the latter sustains the strength of the patient, while it restores the suspended functions of the secretory organs and relieves the bowels without violence or pain. It is simply a choice between restoration and prostration.

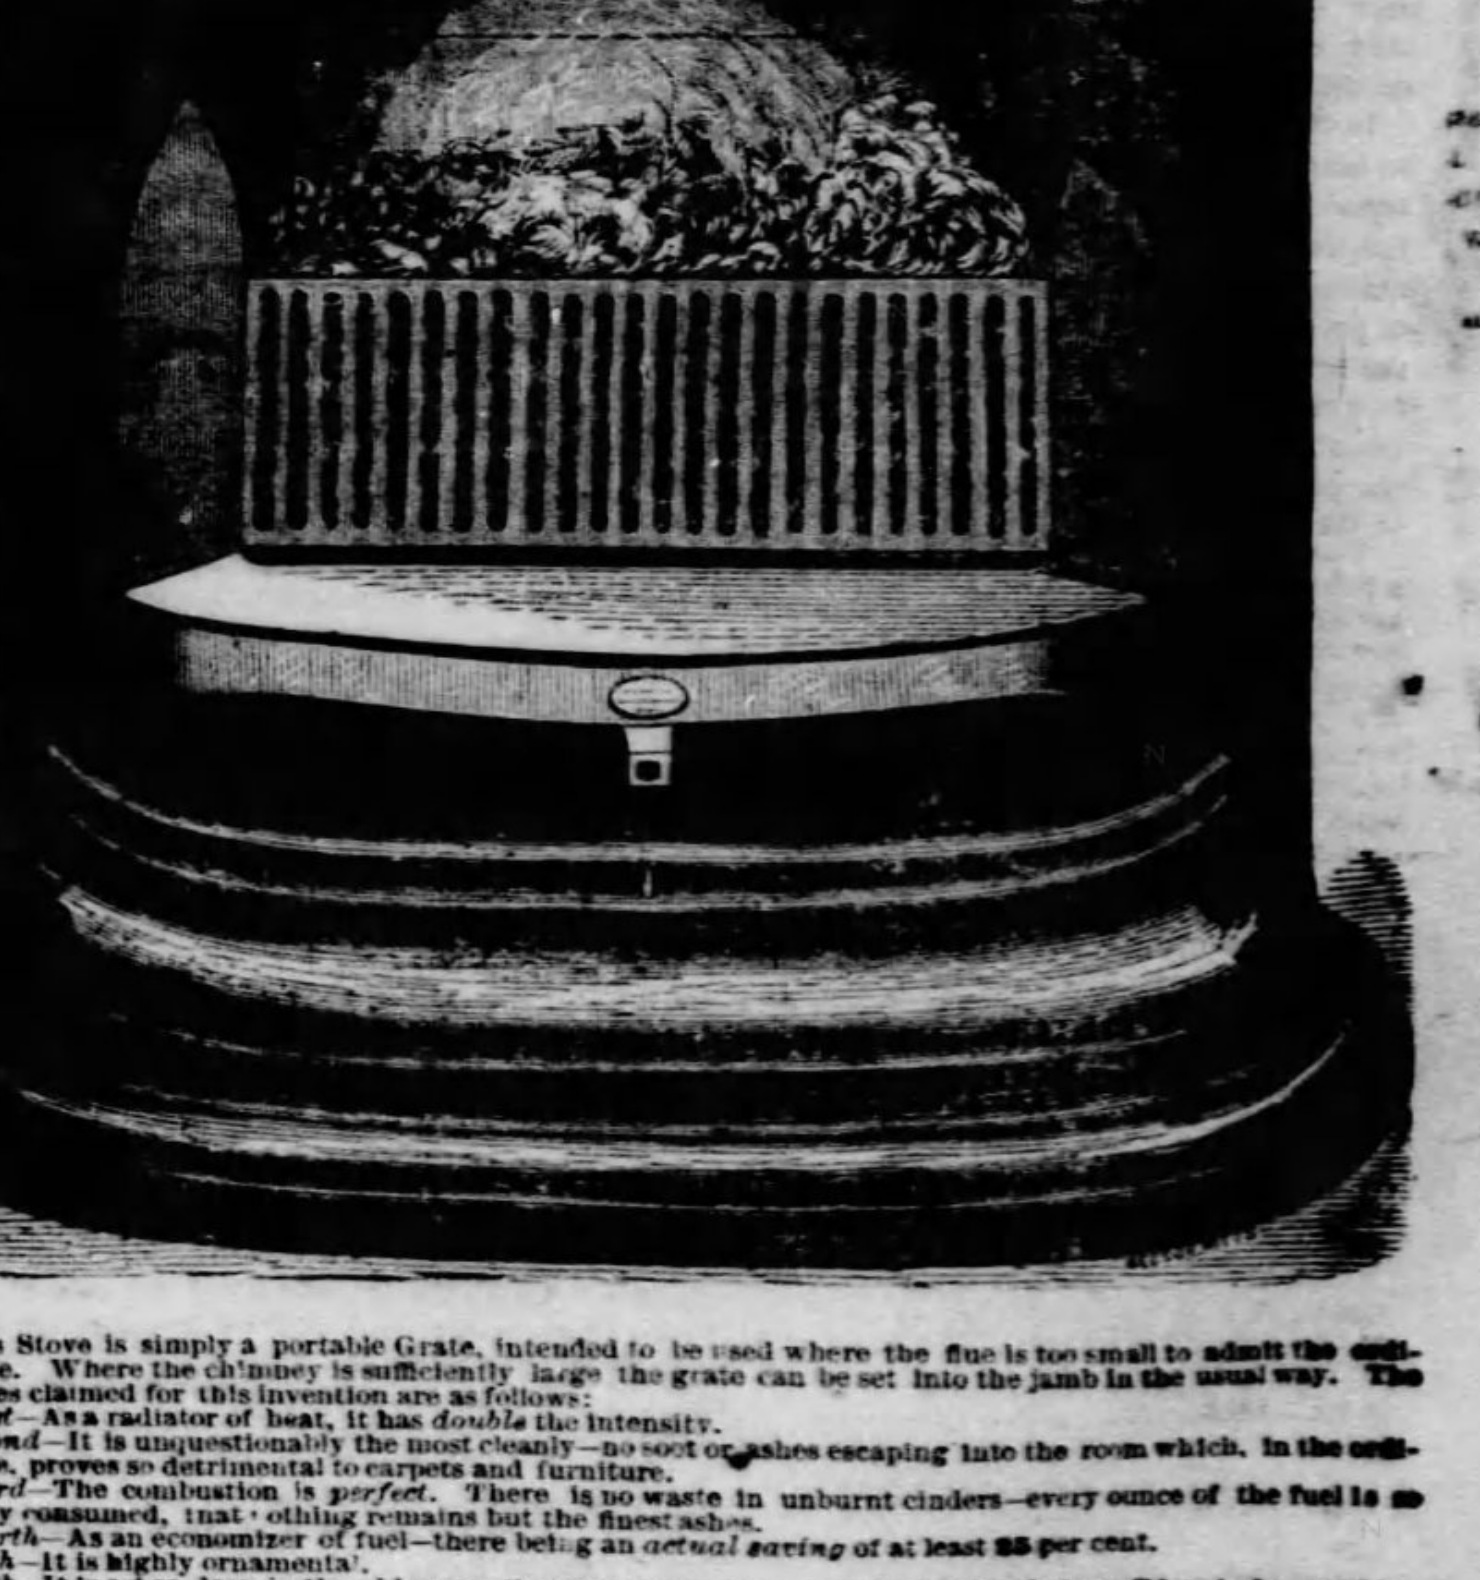
REFLECTOR GRATE AND STOVE.



This Stove is simply a portable Grate, intended to be used where the flue is too small to admit the ordinary grate. Where the chimney is sufficiently large the grate can be set into the jamb in the usual way. The advantages claimed for this invention are as follows:

First—As a radiator of heat, it has double the intensity.
Second—It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room which, in the ordinary grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.
Third—The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.
Fourth—As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.
Fifth—It is highly ornamental.
Sixth—It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.
Seventh—A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causesit to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.

Read the following testimonials which speak for themselves.

MESSRS. L. H. SMITH & CO.—Gentlemen:—We have used your Stove or "Portable Grate," and it affords us pleasure to state that it is more than you represent it to be. It makes a good heat, great saving in coal, free from dust and dirt, and keeps the room in which it is used, very pure.
